Working Along Life's Road

Today's World . . . A Working World

Life is a long time. It consists of many years and many days. Those many years and days hold a lot of work in many different shapes and forms. Each different type of work has its own purpose.

Students spend the first 18 years of their lives in school to prepare themselves to lead the community. They go to school to lay the mental ground work that will be used in future jobs.

The youth of today will be the leaders of tomorrow. This is a very trite statement, but it is quite true. With a future like that ahead, one can't afford to go in with cold feet. Most high school students have jobs working in stores around the community. This way, they get a first hand look along with experience before it is totally up to them.

The students working in the community make up a large part of its working force and without them, many stores would be at a big disadvantage.

The enrichment and betterment of students and community is gained, thus both are better prepared for the coming future.

Who's winning, Pete—you or the cards?

Sleeping on the job again, Cathy?

For the latest on heel and sole news, talk to Donald Nelms.

What's your bag? Lisa's is testing the freshness of bread!

Linda Woods seems to like this aspect of her job.

A Beginning . . .

Concentration is a necessity when it comes to passing.

And you say there's an energy crisis—then look at our parking lot.

If you don't like the lunches—eat ice cream!

Chuck finds that skipping isn't so easy anymore with hall monitors like Mac.

If this is studying . . . Patty and Billy receive an A.

Can Debby and Steve actually be working?

Mr. Walters, a newcomer to Meadowbrook, manages to keep his cool in our busy office.

These are the books that you don't receive after you pay $6.00.

By the looks of them, I'd say they do need guidance.

At the start of every school day is . . . the bus.

Have you ever thought about how long a year is? If you think of it as 365 days, it is a long time. But when you think of all the things you've done in a year, it doesn't seem so long.

That's what this yearbook is going to show you—a year as if it were one day.

What's the first thing you see in the morning? People! Well, the first thing in this book is the people. You'll meet the students as well as the teachers. Of course you've got to buckle down to work sometime, and when you do, you'll meet the clubs and various organizations of Meadowbrook. A bit of exercise does everybody good and there's loads of it to be found in our sports. At the end of the day, you like to relax. And relaxation brings on the special events.

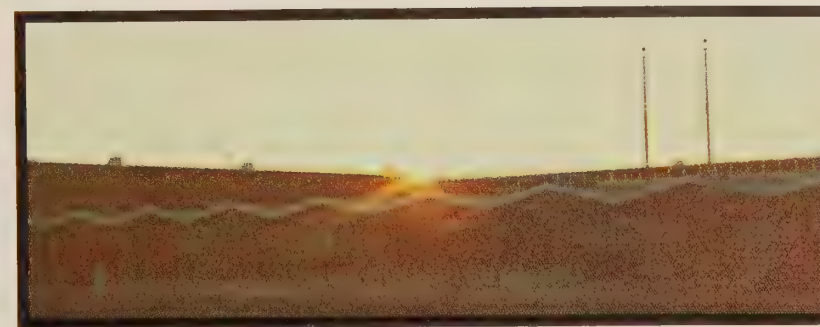

Sound like fun? Even if it wasn't fun, it happened twelve times. Twelve years of our lives are spent in school. During those years, time seemed to drag its feet and waste away. But on the verge of leaving those twelve years behind, we wonder, "where did they go?" It seems as if they went by so fast. We can almost see them as twelve days instead of twelve years and this year as—a year in a day.

Buchanan: Small, But Tall

Small as he may seem, there is a great man who fills the seat behind the large desk in the principal's office. For the past three years, Mr. Buchanan has held this administrative position and again he has led Meadowbrook High School through another busy, eventful year.

Mr. Buchanan has numerous administrative jobs to deal with, a few being: supervising the budget of Meadowbrook to make sure the money is distributed properly and making sure that all events held here at school are properly supervised. Mr. B. is also head coordinator of all programs and departments. And if a teacher has a problem, they need somebody to turn to—that somebody is Mr. Buchanan.

Despite the fact that being principal of a high school is a neverending job, Mr. Buchanan always seems to have time for students. He is always there to help support our activities (he participated in both Donkey Basketball and the WLEE game). And when the Biology class lost a bird, Mr. B. was there ready to help catch it!

Mr. Buchanan must also deal with students' problems, both academic and personal. We, as a student body, are lucky and proud to have a principal such as Mr. Buchanan who is known for his fair and just discipline.

Assistant Principals Keep Students Under Control

Again this year, Meadowbrook has had two assistant principals, Mr. Thomas and Mr. Walters. Although each have specific duties, it seems that their tasks are virtually unlimited.

Mr. Thomas is the assistant principal in charge of discipline. To a great extent, his work is directly related with the students of our school. He is also involved with the freedoms and limitations of student activities. Mr. Thomas' duties also include student enrollment and attendance, as well as the attendance of the teachers (for occasionally, our teachers like to "skip" a day, too).

Mr. Walters is new to our school this year.

A few of his several tasks are issuing early dismissals from classes and taking care of the parking lot by keeping current records of all students who drive to and from school. Most of Mr. Walters' jobs are academically inclined. Mr. Walters' smile has really brightened our office and for his excellent service to Meadowbrook, we wish him welcome.

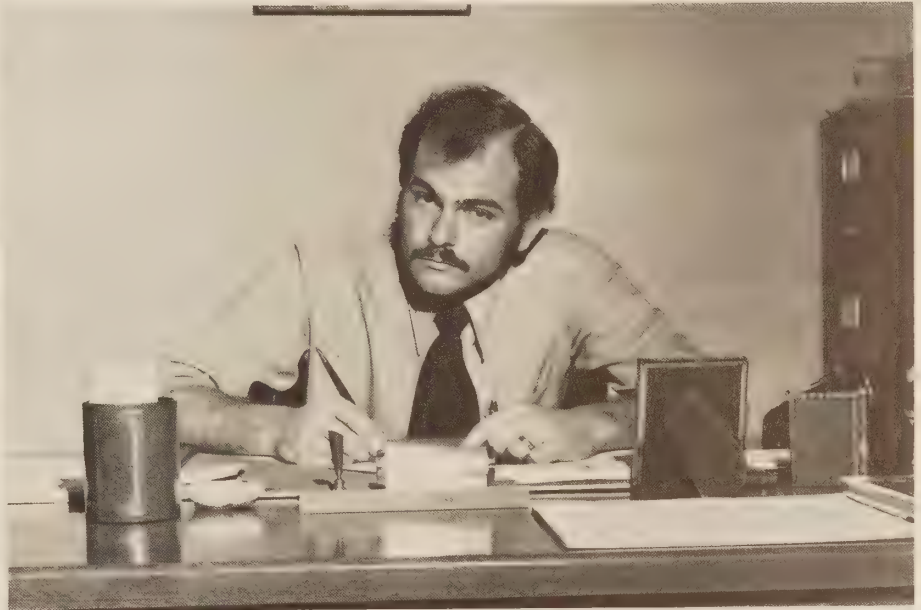

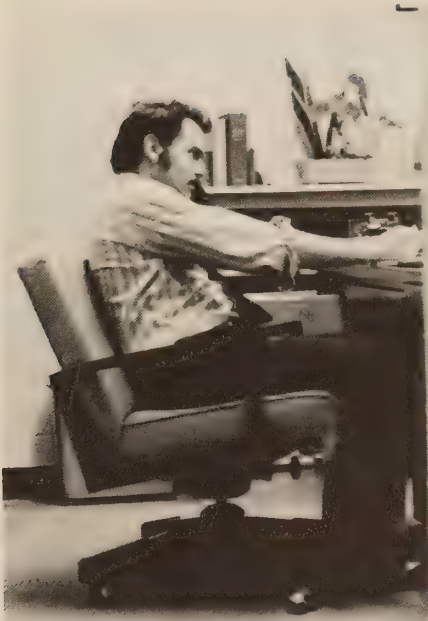

What do you mean you don't want him home for three days?

Ha Ha Ha, you can't catch me!

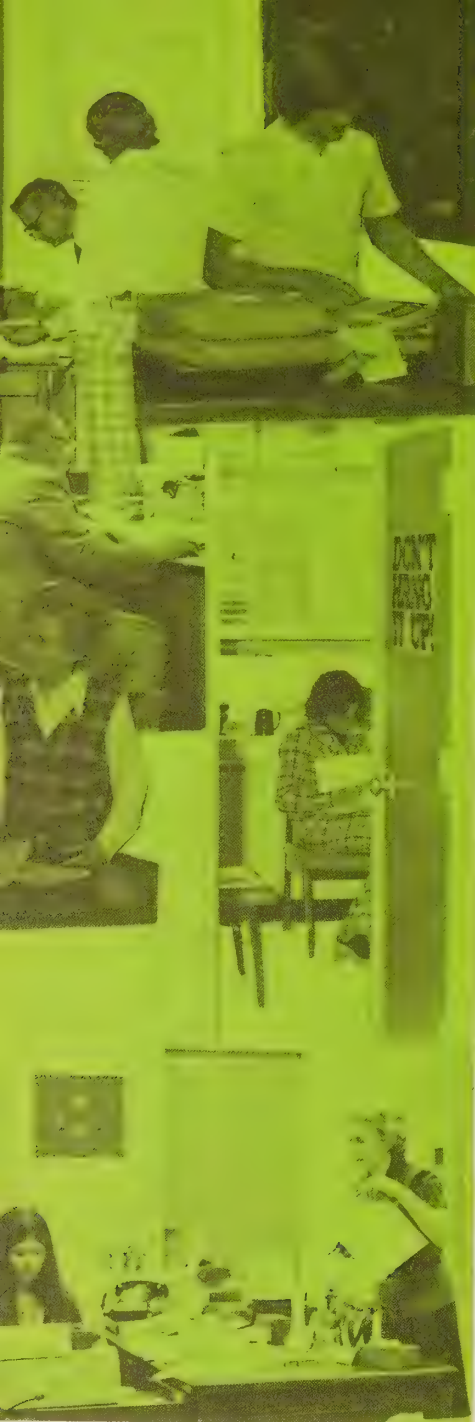

A good number two is hard to find.

Good assistant number two's don't come easy, either.

What's your excuse for leaving today?

The office workers at Meadowbrook are literally invaluable to the operation of school. The secretaries, Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Grizzard; and teachers' aids, Mrs. Padgett, and Mrs. Dorton; not only answer telephones, type, run mimeograph machines and handle in and out-going mail, but they also handle tardies and dismissals, take in money and keep account of all books and supplies used throughout the year.

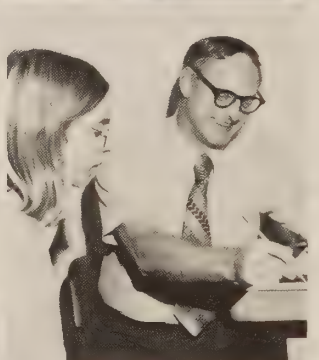

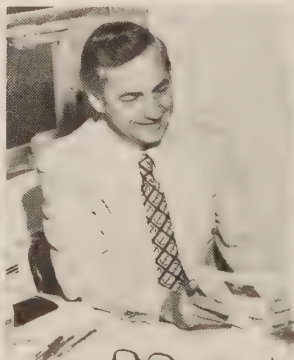

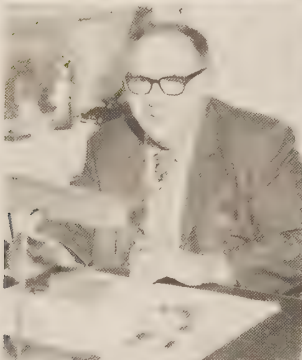

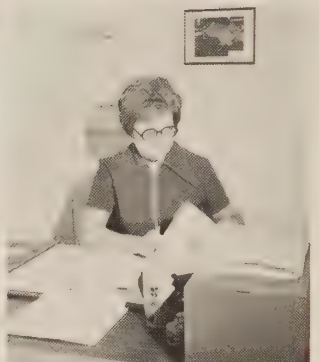

Guidance personnel are the students' key to the future. Mr. Sindlinger (seniors), Mr. Hanson (juniors), Mr. Bailey (sophomores), and Mrs. Grizzard (freshmen), are all here at Meadowbrook to help students with job opportunities, scheduling problems, grades, choice of a college, and college boards. They may also be able to help with some personal problems or student-teacher crisis, just about anything to help plan a person's future or organize his present.

OFFICE OFFICE

This year, Meadowbrook students had the chance to develop the cultural aspects of their character to a fuller extent.

The Drama Department led by newcomer Miss Brennan, had a very active year. They presented the two very successful plays "Come Blow Your Horn" in the fall, followed by the spring production of "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown."

The music department also had a very good year. With the help and supervision of Mr. Winn, Mrs. Nichols, Mrs. Robertson and after her departure, Mr. Bozart, students with golden voices and a musical touch were able to show their talent at its best.

Mr. Butler and Mr. Hamrick changed art greatly this year. The traditional classes were offered as well as specialized courses including photography, a completely new course.

The very popular humanities class rounds out Fine Arts. Here, Mr. Kane has the students read and study material involving many different factors which shape society.

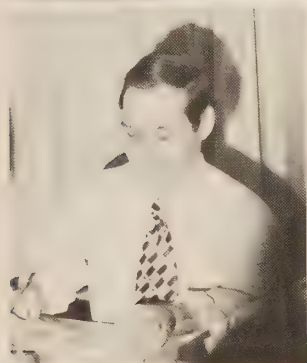

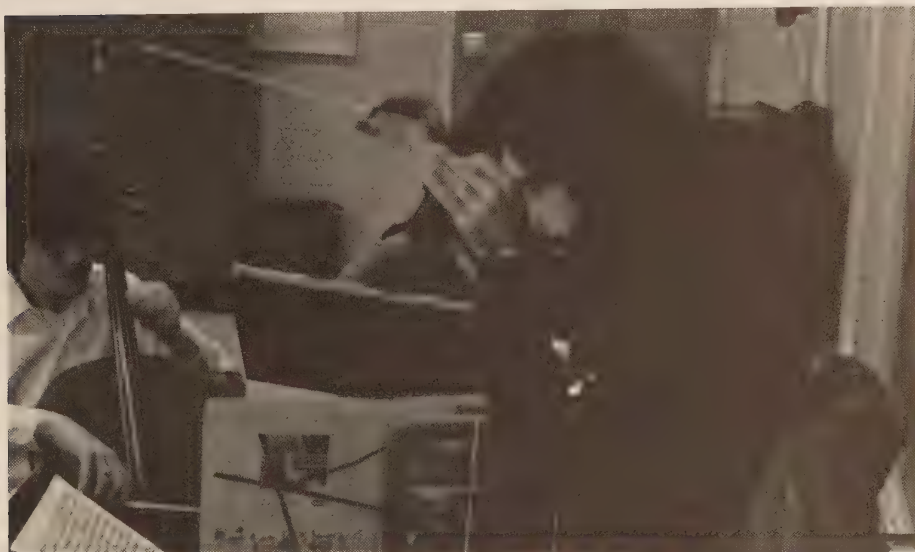

So as well as providing athletic and academic development, Meadowbrook provides her students with culture.

Work? In English I haven't done that since they started packets!

Cheryl Lavene waits patiently for class to begin.

Again this year as students eagerly filed into their English classes on the first day of school, the word "packet" became a commonly used word. Of course, it was all new to the Freshmen.

Again each student worked at his own rate, but was required to meet deadlines which seemed to defeat the purpose of the system.

As mid-term rolled around, it seemed quite evident (by the number of students who received incompletes, the number of teachers leaving, and the number of student and teacher complaints) that the system had failed.

Once again a new system was begun. It was new to everyone except the Seniors. The English department returned to the six weeks system used when our Seniors were "Sophs." In this system students studied topics at their grade level for six weeks. Six weeks tests were given, as well as the exam. This way seemed to work better for all the students and teachers.

Freshmen teachers were Miss Rielly and Ms. Morrison. Mrs. Troxell and Mr. Angell were the main sophomore teachers. It was the duty of Miss Woodroof, Miss Ford, and Mrs. Smith to teach our Juniors; Mrs. Osborne, Miss Brennan, Mrs. Appessos (with the aid of Mrs. Hawthorne and Miss Rielly) to enlighten our Seniors.

We can hardly wait to see what new system will be at M.H.S. next year!

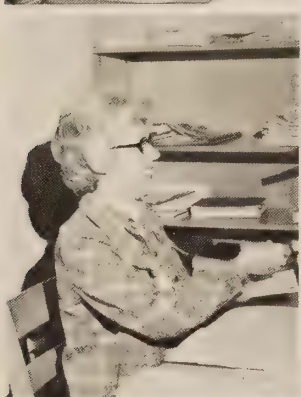

Teaching isn't all they do!

Mole—Tracheophytes—Velocity—Geosynclines

If you need to know about things like this, Meadowbrook has a course for you.

Earth Science was taught by Mrs. Livingston, Mr. Madison, and Mr. Adams. An investigative approach let the students learn about the earth and its changes.

Biology is of basic importance to all students because it involves finding out about living things and the "ins and outs" of life. It was taught by Mrs. Deacon and Mr. Search primarily, but one class was taught by Mr. Adams.

There are two Chemistry courses—Chemistry and Chem Study—both explaining our surroundings and natural chemical processes. The main difference is that Chem Study involves more math. Chem Study was taught by Mrs. Goehle and Chemistry by Mr. Muller.

Physics was a class which proved to be quite baffling to those who took it. In the past, there were two branches of Physics, but this year the two were merged into one. The course dealt with scientific explanations of everyday happenings and was taught by Mr. Muller.

Winn Rogers

Patricia Wells

The Math department tried hard to stress the importance of mathematics and appeared to have succeeded.

The higher-level courses, Math Analysis and Calculus, had an increase in enrollment with Calculus tripling in number.

The lower level courses did not have as large an increase largely due to the lack of teachers. Thus, the classes were greatly overcrowded. This made teaching as well as learning difficult because teachers were unable to give the individual attention needed.

For the second year, Mr. Bauer taught a computer class, with the addition of a new computer this year.

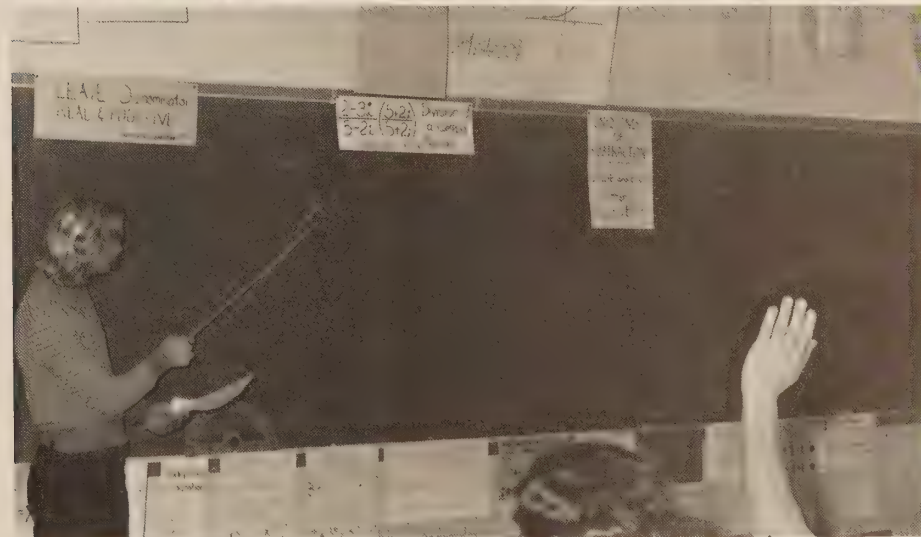

All in all the math department had a very successful year and hopes to have the same next year.

Those American History teachers gave a little extra again this year to vary the usual fare of lecture and discussion. First came a general survey, lasting the first 6-weeks, followed by the study of historical periods elected by the students for the rest of the year. Cheers go to Mr. Porter, Ms. McClain, and Mr. Leslie.

Government went back to lecture and discussion classes after last year's failure of the 6-weeks survey system. However, in order to ease the monotony, changes were made in the form of various class discussions and guest speakers in Mr. Hines classes. In addition to Mr. Hines, Government was taught by Ms. Chase, Mr. Walker, and one class by Mr. Kane.

Mrs. Geary's and Mr. Pierson's World History classes, and Mr. Walker's, Mr. Pierson's, and Mrs. Grizzard's World Geography classes, provided the basis for a well rounded education for the Freshman and Sophomores.

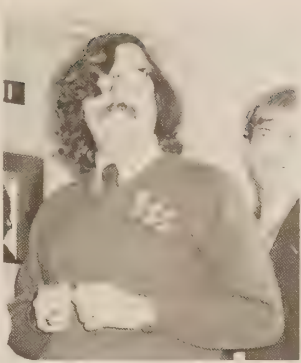

Along with conventional Social Studies courses, elective classes were offered in 20th Century History, Practical Law, and Sociology. All added up to a very successful year for this department.

I'm telling you now, don't come in here unless you can parlez le francais.

Linda Davidson

Foreign Languages are quickly becoming popular subjects at Meadowbrook. Students may choose from four languages—French, Spanish, Latin, and German.

Spanish was taught by Senoras Woolford, Thalhimer, and, after Senora Thalhimer's departure, Senora Shelton.

French was taught by Mesdames Prince and Davidson, Latin by Mrs. Hawthorne, and Dr. Look was the "illustrious leader" of the German classes.

In French, Spanish, and German, students study mainly the basics of the language, including pronunciation, grammar, literature, conjugations, and enunciation. Latin is centered basically around Roman history and the influence of the Mediterranean world and our own culture, as well as the affects the Latin language has on the English language.

Barbara Lester

Sandra Lee

Physical Education is probably the single most important subject at school. Through the activities provided by this department, students are able to keep in shape.

But not only basics for physical excellence are taught. In the ninth grade, first aid teaches what to do in emergencies and general personal hygiene.

For the sophomores, driver's ed. acquaints the sophs with laws of the road. After showing he understands the basics of driving, the student takes behind-the-wheel, where he experiences actual road conditions.

Sophomores also hold discussions concerning teenage problems, and see films on the responsibilities assumed by turning 16.

Though freshman and sophomore gym is the main part of this department, Phys. Ed. is offered to 11th and 12th graders. These upper classmen have the privilege of being able to choose which sport they wish to work with and are more or less on an "independent study" system.

It's easy to see that P.E. is not the "easy-A" many people feel it is. Hard work and skill development are essential to excel in physical education.

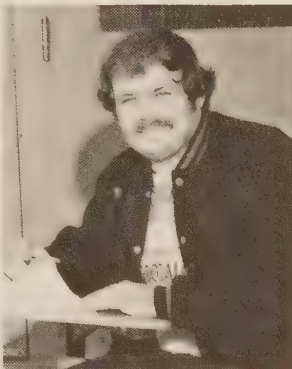

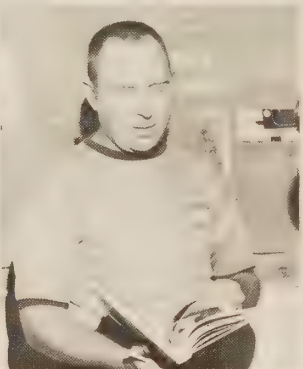

Hang in there David!

BUSINESS BUSINESS BUSINESS

If I ever get through with these cards . . .

Do you know how to write a check, balance a bank account, or plan a household budget? If not, maybe General Business is the course for you. Perhaps you would rather learn about a typewriter and how to impress your teachers with typewritten term papers. Then typing is the course for you. Or maybe you have a teacher who can really throw out the words. If you need a system to take notes quickly, maybe you should be in shorthand. If selling is a trade you're interested in, Distributive Education is around.

In the Business department, students learn things helpful in both the business world and a college education.

What did Mr. Hawkins say the second longest line between the inch marks was?

Industrial Arts includes Mechanical Drawing, Electricity, Shop, and Home Economics. These courses help students be prepared for the practical needs of life.

Mr. Hawkins taught his Mechanical Drawing students the basics of architecture and the drawing up of simple plans.

Shop taught students how to create with wood or just how to build. They were also taught skills needed to work with their projects done in class.

Students taking Electricity with Mr. Grinstead learned how to wire up a house and how electrical mechanisms work.

To top off Industrial Arts, there is Home Economics, taught by Mrs. Bowman and Mrs. Hopkins. The girls taking this class sold Tang and doughnuts each Tuesday and Thursday morning. In class they learned how to sew, keep a clean and proper house, and how to catch a man "through his stomach".

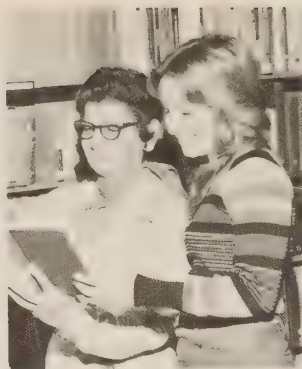

Oh no, I sewed the collar to the armhole

LIBRARY-QUIET!

Martha Browder

Fred Jurgens

Who does he think he is, telling me to be quiet?

Glenn Smith

Joel Dexter

Student appreciation for the library increased tremendously over past years. After spending over $6000 and only having a net gain of five books, the library sent out a plea to the students to help regain the lost books. Their call was answered in the form of many of these books being returned. Along with them came a new appreciation and respect for Meadowbrook's library.

Mr. Smith and Mr. Dexter held casual and easy going Special Ed. classes which included an art class as a break in dull schoolwork. Classes were small enabling teachers to give needed individual attention. Most work was done in the classroom so students seldom had to go other places for sources of material. These men have done a good job and we are proud to have them at M.H.S.

CAFETERIA

I'm the little lady that you saw with the broom.

Pearl Fisher

Joe Allen

Louise Brown

The Cafeteria Staff has done a very good job planning and serving meals to the students. They have served a variety of meals including freshly made bread or rolls and homemade desserts, ranging all the way from a full three-course meal to a plain hamburger. And for either an addition to or in place of the regular meal, ice cream is offered, an extra which a majority of the students used to its fullest extent.

No matter which of these were used, considering the number of people they must feed, the Cafeteria Staff should be congratulated.

Have you ever noticed that clean side of a hall, then followed it to find a lady with a broom at the end? Or seen a bathroom door propped open, then through further investigation, found another lady filling soap racks? Or seen busted radiator vents, only to return later to see the vents fixed and a man walking away, putting a screw-driver in his pocket? The three just mentioned make up M.H.S.'s custodial staff, keeping it properly cleaned and maintained. They are always around picking up and fixing up, making Meadowbrook a better place.

Orange Juice?

I like this Stone and that ring, no—I like that stone and this ring or maybe I should get . . .

Juniors did something a little extra this year in honor of their Balfour high school rings. Balfour Co. has always done an exceptional job on Meadowbrook rings to make them special for the students and this year their pride came through in the shape of a Ring Dinner. All Juniors who had received their rings from Balfour Co. got together in the school cafeteria and had a dinner with food provided by certain members of the class. You can always count on Balfour for the rings and Monarchs for a way to celebrate.

I think this thing has a hole in it!

And I thought the cafeteria food was bad!

12 years of learning,
What does it mean,
Does it mean a richer life,
Or one with little ease,
Does it change my way of living,
Or calm life's troubled seas.

12 years of learning,
living,
What will it mean?
Will it make my life so lonely,
When all my friends must part.
Or will it make me juble,
To know I was a part.

12 years of learning,
seeking,
What shall it be?
Will it fill my life with freedom,
Or burdens unsurpassed.
Or will it shine before me,
In memories of my past.

Working in the school office is no easy task, especially when the mailman arrives. Rusty and Mrs. Grizzard sure do seem to be having a good time sorting his deliveries, though.

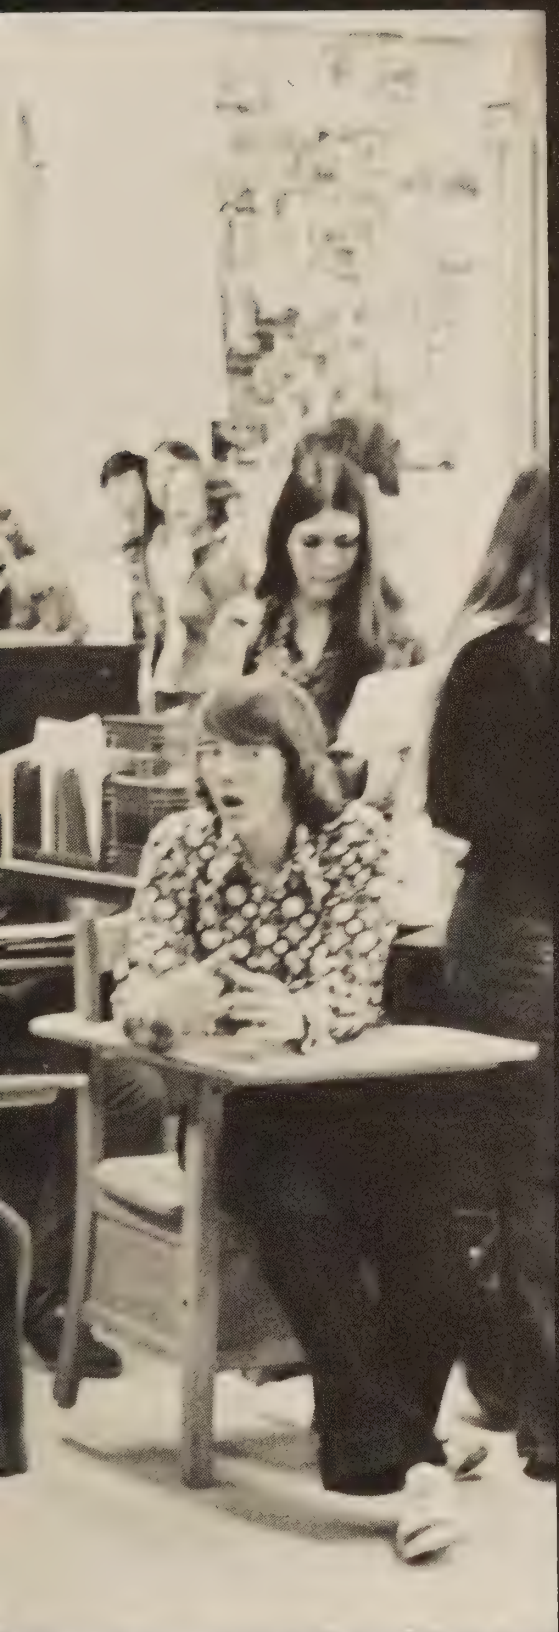

Religion takes a major role in most people's lives. Jesus came to point out the way for us in his time; and today, Meadowbrook has its own Gospel leader, Ken Emery. He tries to point out the way to those who will believe and follow.

Performing is a major part of student life at Meadowbrook. There are many kinds of performing, such as: participation in sports, drama, music, or athletic support, as shown here. Whether you march or cheer, you are still performing.

Everybody likes a little relaxation sometime. And what better way is there to relax than to dance? By the looks of Doug and Rùthanne, relaxation can also be fun!

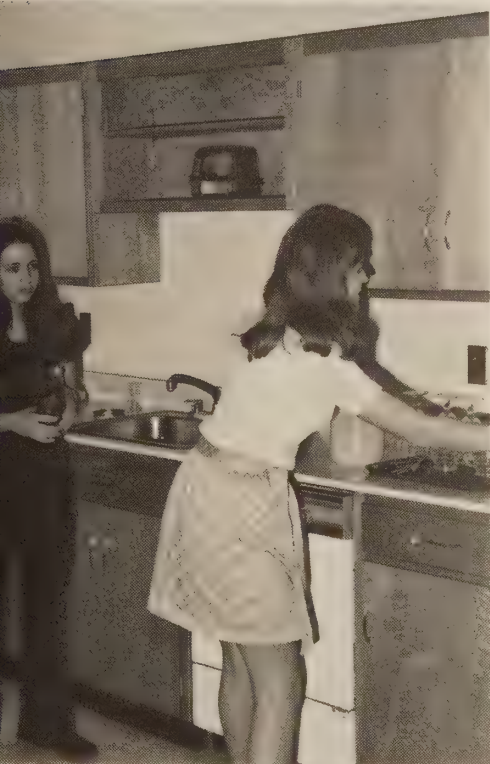

Some classes are fun. Some classes are boring. But what is this class?

FHA Sponsors Mr. B's Luncheon

The Future Homemakers of America is a group of girls who are interested in learning more about the methods of raising and caring for a family.

But there is much more involved than just this. Members of the club must work very hard. The FHA is very active, doing many things around Meadowbrook. These girls make and sell baked goods and also organize Mr. B's luncheon. They also sponsored a mother-daughter banquet and had a skating party this year.

The club is always eager for new members, so get involved in home economics and join our future homemakers! It's an easy way to learn about something that's not as natural as many people think it is.

INTERN

This year our Spanish Club had a busy year! Sponsored by our own Mrs. Woolford, the club tried to make Spain, its history, and its language come alive to those who were in the club.

You know all those weird Spanish foods that you never quite had the nerve to try? Well, those were the main dishes served at the Spanish banquets this year. Various dinners were held at different members' homes each time and the señores and señoritas came to enjoy.

When they grew tired of having so many suppers, there was always something else to do.

For instance, in the fall, much of their time was occupied in putting their Don Quixote float together. They did a great job and captured a second place prize in the Homecoming parade.

In the spring, the club worked on a skit for Language Day at VCU. This was done in cooperation with the Spanish department at VCU.

Concluding their festivities for the year was the annual Language Day Banquet. They took an active role in setting it up and contributed a lot to the entertainment.

A trip to Washington in the spring had to be cancelled, due to the gas shortage; but, they had a busy year without the trip and a bunch of fun to boot!

This year our Latin Club had very little to do; but even so, they had a good time. They took an active part in many of the activities that were to add flare to the foreign language department, such as the Language Day Banquet. And this year, they celebrated various Roman holidays and red-letter dates in Roman history. The highlight of the year was the celebration of the birthday of that great city founded by that dynamic duo—Romulus and Remus—Rome! Veni, Vidi, Vici!

ATIONALS

Wow! Do you realize what benefits can come from taking French? Among other things, you can become a member of the French Club. And what a busy year they had this year.

The Club had plans for many things as the year opened. They had dinners at various members homes and came dressed as famous French characters. These dinners featured the elegant cuisine of the country. The French Club was in charge of the Language Day Banquet this year and working out the technicalities. They planned to conclude their year with a trip to Washington, seeing the sights of our nation's capital.

Library Club Helps Retrieve Stolen Books

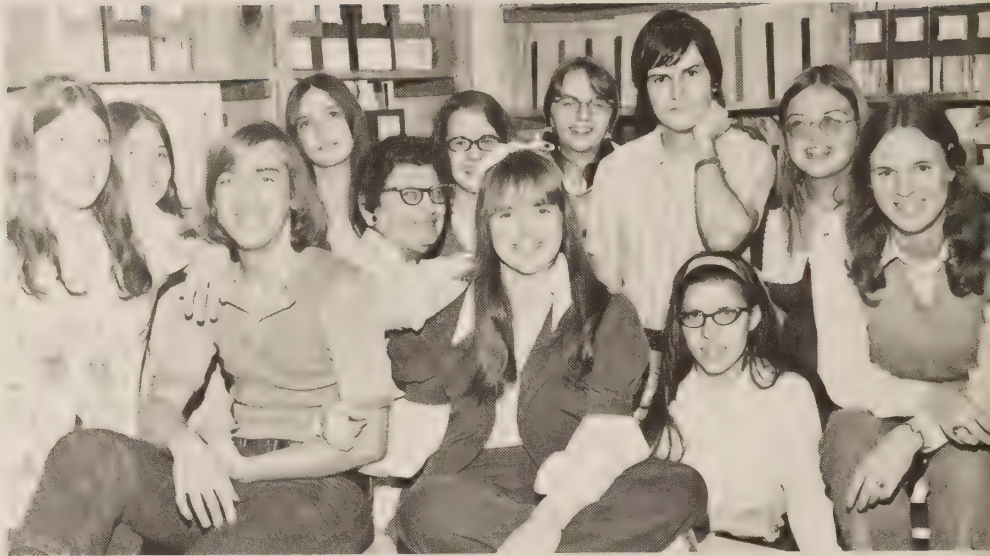

The Library Club is a service club here to help the students of Meadowbrook with problems they may run into while using the library, such as finding books or using the card catalog.

By helping students, members get a better chance to decide if they wish to go into the field of Library Science.

This year, the Library club sponsored a Paperback Book Fair to raise money for library uses. They also shelve books, work behind the desk, and write and deliver overdue book notices.

A.F.S. Searches for Money

The American Field Service could not sponsor a foreign exchange student this year because of lack of funds. Their main concern is to raise funds to sponsor one next year.

FTA Becomes S.A.E.

STUDENTS FOR EDUCATION

New progress in clubs brings around new changes and this is evident by the changing of FTA to SAE (Student Action for Education). Today, the concern for better education is a constant concern. SAE gives students a chance to investigate career opportunities in the education profession and a chance to work with teachers to solve common education problems.

This year they attended a convention at which the purpose was to explain the reasons for the changes. They learned more about SAE and why there is such a club. Also they were active in the organization of college night here at school.

The Keyettes are one group at Meadowbrook that really shows their spirit. They support girls' basketball and wrestling. This year, they were especially involved with the wrestling tournament by keeping the score cards and running errands for the coaches. They also sponsored the "Keyette Player of the Week" during football and basketball season. This is where the Keyettes pick one outstanding player for that week and put his picture and something about him on the office window.

The Keyettes are involved in the community, too. They do volunteer work and visit the Crippled Children's Hospital on holidays. The Keyettes are definitely one club Meadowbrook can be proud of.

SERVICE

Joyce Mercer listens to new ideas.
... and that's not even the punch line.
Patti Orfield presides at Keyette meeting.

ODD JOBBERS

Key Club members "take root."
Mr. Hawkins tries to escape.
Chris and Tucker show they've got a green thumb.

The Key Club is another active club at Meadowbrook. They support our football team by raising and lowering the flag at the games and parking cars. This year the Key Club planned a "clean up the community" day, but it was rained out. As a part of their ecology program, they planted trees and bushes around the school. They also rode bicycles and carried signs on Jefferson Davis Highway encouraging people to slow down or ride bicycles to save gasoline and clean the air. The Key Club obviously had some "clean" fun as well as helping others in the community.

CHRISTIANS

Once again the Tri-Hi-Y had a busy calendar. At Thanksgiving, they made food baskets for needy families. During the Miss Meadowbrook Pageant, the club worked the concessionaire. In April while the bloodmobile was here, the Tri-Hi-Y (along with the Keyettes) served refreshments to donors.

The week of February 14th was Tri-Hi-Y week. To celebrate, the members took their Little Brother (Tucker Perkins), and Sweetheart (Ray Alexander) to dinner. Also that week, the Tri-Hi-Y had a slave day where the members were slaves. They did odd jobs such as cleaning out lockers and carrying books for set prices. The money they raised went into the treasury to be used for future projects.

BIBLE FELLOWSHIP

Queen to Queen's Knight four. What's that? That's just one of the many moves the Meadowbrook Chess Club uses. The members know whether or not that is the right move from their many hours of practice and concentration. The club meets everyday after school at which time the members take each other on in a practice match. Sometimes, their sponsor, Mr. Muller, sets up difficult situations that the members work out to improve their games in competition.

Have you ever wondered about the Bible? Do questions about God's word run around in your mind? The Bible Fellowship searches for the answers to the questions anyone may have. They discuss the various questionable topics, giving their ideas and views.

The meetings are open to all students who wish to come and share their feelings and thoughts, and are held twice weekly. Get involved next year!

PROS & CONS

This year, Meadowbrook started a Debate Team. This team consisted of four debaters and a crew of researchers.

These debaters have traveled all over the state participating in debate tournaments. They visited Hopewell High School, V.M.I., Longwood, and Madison College, among other places.

In addition to debating, these students have become an affiliate of the National Forensics League. This National Honor Society for speech and debate will give them an opportunity to receive national recognition for themselves as well as Meadowbrook.

The Debate Team is off to a good start. Hopefully, each year it will bring additional success to Meadowbrook.

"Is that you, Mom?"

"Dammit, I love you, Allan!"

Players Produce First Musical

The Court Players is an Honor Society for all persons who have been involved in two or more play productions at Meadowbrook.

These plays provide entertainment and education in the world of Theatre Arts for the community.

Funds for the productions are raised by the Court Players through contributions, patrons sold for play programs, and profits from tickets.

In accordance with their tradition, they produced two plays at Meadowbrook this year. Miss Brennan, their new sponsor, was a welcome addition to these productions.

COMPUTERS

Comet Kohoutek Interests MAΘ

Mu Alpha Theta is one of the four honorary clubs at Meadowbrook, and it is our Math Club which tries to interest students in math.

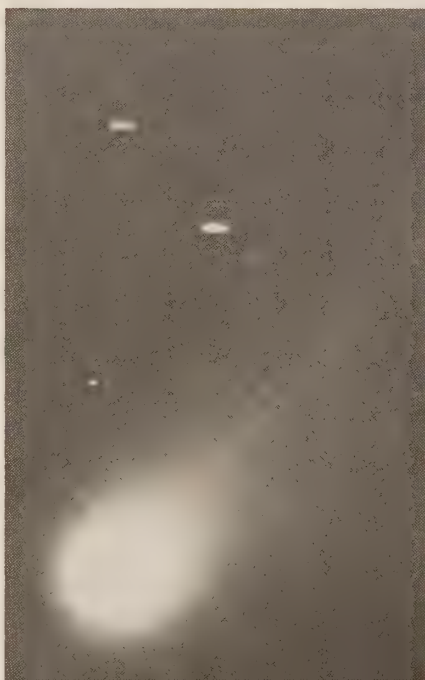

Members are tapped in the spring and fall to raise the membership. Initiates must have an "A" average in math or a "B" if they are on the honor's program. Members must be enrolled in Algebra II-Trig, Math Analysis, or Calculus to be eligible.

Mu Alpha is not a club that sits around solving equations, finding derivatives, or working on other tedious math problems. Just like all other clubs, they have fund-raising projects that require the hard work of its members.

The Math Club watched the progress of the comet Kohoutek with interest, and traveled to various schools which sponsored comet watches. In the spring, the National MAΘ test was given to those interested students. An annual spring banquet completed the Math Club's year, including the installation of the new math whizzes!

It's a bird . . . It's a plane . . . No, it's only Comet Kohoutek streaking through space.

New math club members, Tommy Brittle, Ray Alexander, and Byron Roberts, prepare to take the "oath of allegiance" to mathematics.

History Buffs Travel to NY, NY

K Ω Φ is one of the honorary clubs at Meadowbrook. Members are selected from applicants who are the most outstanding in the field of social studies—those who show a genuine interest in history. Initiation into the club is an accomplishment of which to be proud.

New members were tapped in the fall, and as an added flavor, were required to dress as a famous historical person for a day. The most original costume was awarded to Angela Elam (alias Martha Washington).

Membership in K Ω Φ requires a lot of hard work and time. Various projects were undertaken by the club to raise funds for a spring trip.

In November, the annual "Battle of the Brains" was sponsored. The Junior-Senior rivalry intensified; the Seniors finally won 320-295, but only after a shaky start.

Several speakers were invited to talk to the club including Dave MacNally (political cartoonist), Lt. Paul Gallanti, and an expert on the Beale mystery.

A trip to New York was taken in March. Those who went saw all the sights of the "big" city. Later, a Broadway musical was seen.

The club ended a busy year with spring tappings.

T-R-I-V-I-A

Bluegrass Delights Folk Rock Crowd

Our student government is one of the most important facets of school life. The purpose of the S.C.A. is to bring the students, faculty, and administration closer together through various activities, while making our school more prominent in the community.

The Student Cooperative Association is composed of the House of Representatives, the Senate and the Honor Court. Members of the House and Senate are elected each year by their respective classes. The Honor Court is chosen by different means. At the head of the S.C.A. are the five officers who were elected at the end of last year.

This year, our S.C.A. was very busy. Plagued by many apathetic members at first, the S.C.A. struggled to accomplish what they had planned. Through hard work, the S.C.A. put the Back to School Dance, the annual Folk Rock Concert, Christmas Dance, and the Miss Meadowbrook Pageant together. Unfortunately, the student body did not support these functions as well as they could have.

Also, sponsored by the S.C.A. was a student-faculty basketball game, for the purpose of raising funds for a statue erected in memory of Dr. Roy Alcorn.

Let's hope that next year the S.C.A. will continue their hard work and that the students will not take them so much for granted.

Hands Down for a Job Well Done

Our Honor Court is one of the most important organizations in our school. Even so, very little is ever heard about it or what the Court does. The Honor Court is composed of eight justices, and one of these is a chief justice. This position is permanently held by the President of the National Honor Society. The members must submit an application to the advisor telling why they wish to be considered for a seat and what their qualifications are. The justices are then selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, ability, and concern.

This group of students form the Judicial Branch of our SCA, and they have several important jobs. Their chief concern is dishonesty and cheating within the school. As unfortunate as it is, these are problems which are very real at Meadowbrook; these students—as well as others—wish to see it stopped and are doing something about it.

The Court consists of: one sophomore—

Kaye Throckmorton; three Juniors—Jimmy Pittman, Susan Roberts, and Tommy Sherrill; and four Seniors—Susie Pearse, Graham Wilson, Anna Whitehurst, and Dale Finlay (chief justice). Most of the meetings are held during activities or before school.

The Honor Court reviews cases involving students who were turned in by their teachers for cheating or similar actions. The Court then questions the student and makes a decision. If they agree with the teacher, a formal written apology is usually required. If the student refuses to comply with the decision that is made, it could be necessary for a suspension by Mr. Thomas.

Unfortunately, there was a marked increase in the number of cases this year. This kept the court and their sponsor very busy. These students deserve a hand for a job well-done—even when a decision is hard to make, they seemed to come up with the right answer.

Membership into the National Honor Society is the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a high school junior or senior. The Society is recognized nationally and membership gives seniors a good recommendation for the college of their choice. This year, twenty-six members, more than have ever been in the Meadowbrook chapter before, worked in this organization. To be tapped as a member, you must conform to the national requirements of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. This year's society had a bake sale and used the money to help pay for their sashes to be worn at graduation. Spring tapplings were held on April 25 in the courtyard, with Seniors in caps and gowns. The Seniors filed in, led by the National Honor Society. Dr. Brandt, president of Virginia Commonwealth University was the guest speaker. Then, the sixteen new members were tapped and took the official oath. Two of the tappees were seniors and will not return next year, but the fourteen remaining will uphold the high standards of the National Honor Society in the coming year.

Life is made up of past, present, and future. The present is short-lived and who knows what the future will bring? But the past is always there, to reflect upon and remember. A year-book is for your memories, and that's what the SCEPTRE is all about. We have tried this year to give Meadowbrook the book they have wanted for so long. There is more color and special effects in this book than in any other to ever come out of this school. And this was made possible because for the first time, over two-thirds of the student body ordered a book. This, and ads obtained by our staff, gave us the money we needed to make this book something special. Also the SCEPTRE Staff sponsored a concert during 6th period in January. The Holidays (you know—that group with Mr. Search, Miss Ford, and Mr. Winn) were the star performers. The proceeds from this helped pay for these added extras.

Remember the day of the first pep rally, or when you found out that your favorite teacher was leaving? Remember Senior Week and all those underclassmen on the flagpole? What about that pie-eating contest and winning the Prince George basketball game? Can't you see the pictures of the Miss Meadowbrook Pageant and the prom flashing in your mind? All this goes to show that there are an awful lot of happenings in a day, and even more in a year. But 1974 passed so quickly, almost like a year in a day—and that's what SCEPTRE '74 is showing, a year as if it were one day.

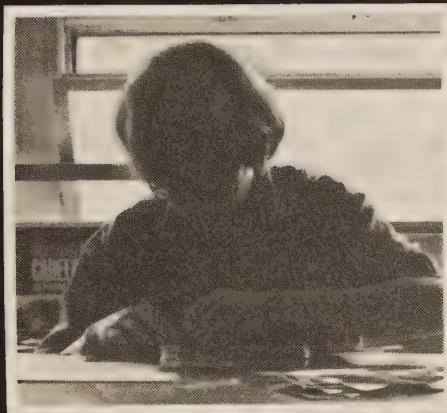

We hope that this book will become a treasured keepsake of yours and will be as important to you as it is to the staff who worked so very hard on it.

"Would you grid this article?" "Can you cover the baseball game today?" These are familiar lines to people on our newspaper staff.

The MEDALLION took on a new form this year. It was much bigger and all layouts, type-setting, and photography was done by the staff members. Financially, this helped them a great deal.

Each edition of the paper this year was at least four pages, and several consisted of six or eight pages. Also, a special April Fool's edition was published.

The papers were composed of all the usuals—news articles, covering events around the school, editorials, feature articles, and sports articles. Also, Monarchs of the Month were selected by the staff for each edition.

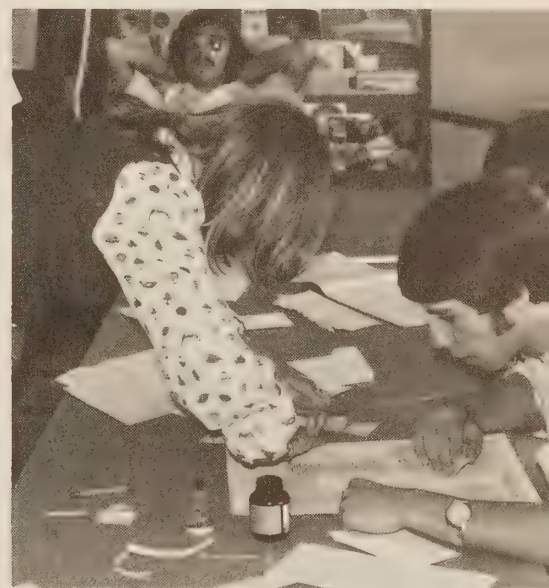

"How in the world did they raise all the money?" is a very plausible question. Of course, the sale of the newspaper was important, but other projects were sponsored as well.

Cupid's Hotline reappeared this year. But the biggest project was the 50's and 60's dance. Our school was turned into a relic of the past. Nostalgia filled the air as students came to school in the attire of the decade. The participation was really great, and this helped to pull the apathetic students into the swing of things. So you can see that we had a really "boss" newspaper staff this year!

POETRY - PROSE

The Muse is one of three publications that appear at Meadowbrook. This hard-working staff of students puts together the Muse, our literary magazine. This publication is different in that it gives all students a chance to do their own creative writing and have their work appear before the school. Each year, students are invited to submit their poetry, short stories, haiku, or any other sort of literature for publishing. The staff edits and prepares the material and the magazine is distributed in the spring.

To help cover costs this year, the Muse did their own typing and type-setting. They also sponsored a music concert to help students relax.

True, the Muse is a hard-working staff, but unfortunately, they are not given credit where credit is due.

Quill and Scroll Publishes Senior Paper

This year our Quill and Scroll was really busy. The Quill and Scroll is an honorary society that is composed of Juniors and Seniors who are in the upper one-third of their class and are involved in some sort of editing, managing or active participation in one of the three publications at Meadowbrook. Sixteen members were tapped this year to make a total of eighteen members.

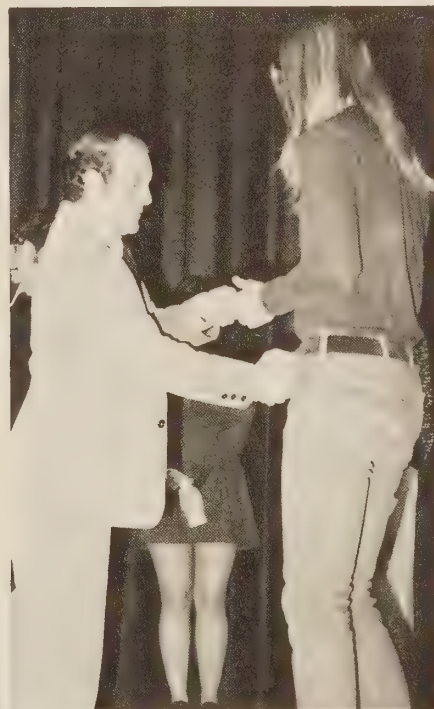

The major undertaking of the Quill and Scroll is publishing the Senior Paper. This year they had to do all of the griding, typing and typesetting themselves due to poor financial situations. Included in the paper this year were Senior Last Wills and Testaments, the puns with names, Senior superlatives, and an article on the history of this year's Senior class.

This year, the Quill and Scroll was helped by the experience of its two returning members—Paulette Privitera and Dorline Davidson.

The Varsity Cheerleaders do a great job. They make signs for all sports, especially football and basketball, as well as actively supporting the spring sports. They make treats for all the athletes and attend most of their games.

The biggest project our cheerleaders undertake is the Homecoming Week. They organize pep rallies all during the week, including the spirit chain and bon fire. They also organize the Homecoming Parade in which all the clubs enter a float. These floats are judged in the categories of most school spirited, most original, and most attractive. The high point of the week is the big dance on Saturday where all the students and alumni get together for a big time of dancing and reminising.

We certainly can't forget those smiling, jumping girls who do such a fine job coordinating our Friday morning pep rallies.

Meadowbrook athletes are lucky to have such a spirited group of girls supporting them.

Raye yells, "Give us an 'M'!"

Sherrill exercises her vocal chords.

Promoting school spirit at pep rallies and sporting events is the job of the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders, and they did the job well this year. By encouraging school spirit and providing leadership for the student body in school sponsored activities (such as Homecoming in which they spent a lot of time), the J.V. Cheerleaders showed that a small amount of spirit can go a long way toward making a great school. So by their contribution to school life, the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders helped Meadowbrook High School to be a better school to attend. All of their hard work should be greatly appreciated.

Majorettes Give Inspiration To M.H.S.

As always, Meadowbrook's majorettes worked hard on routines to perform before the student body. Their major events were pep-rallies, football games, parades, and concerts.

But there's a lot more to being a majorette than twirling. The Monarch T-shirts that were worn around school were sold by the majorettes to raise money for camp. The support of the student body in the buying of these shirts was greatly appreciated.

The squad not only performed with batons, but they also used pom-poms, as well as routines they learned at majorette camp.

All together the squad was inspiring to M.H.S.

The Drill Team did various types of routines besides the regular marching and pom-pom routines this year. They added dance routines, flags, and guns (which they were taught how to twirl by the Fort Lee Honor Guard).

For parades and pep-rallies, the squad broke into two separate groups; half twirled guns and half twirled flags.

The old uniforms and boots were disposed of and new "mix and match" uniforms were bought. The traditional white marching boots were replaced by high-heeled marching boots.

Practice was held once a week during the summer and every day in August. Their hard work at the practices showed in their performances.

Honor NOT Color

This year, the Honor Guard held practices separately from the Drill Team (from which they were split last year). They are called an Honor Guard—not a Color Guard—because they present the flag. The Honor Guard consists of six girls; four of which carry guns and two who carry flags. They presented the flags before pep-rallies, football, and basketball games. The Honor Guard also marches with the other marching units in parades. They do a good job and their service is greatly appreciated.

MARCHING BAND

Marching Band was handled a little different this year. For the first time, it was non-mandatory for band members. Membership was low, but that is to be expected for a "new" group.

The Marching Monarchs attended all home football games and participated in several parades. Although they did not attend the away games, a Pep Band was sent. They also attended all the pep rallies to instill spirit as well as to provide accompaniment for the Drill Team and Majorettes. Another new note for the Marching Band is the fact that there are no officers, with the exception of Drum Major. Officers were previously needed to help curb the discipline problem. But with the Band being a select group, it was felt that there would be no severe discipline problems.

The concept of "Voluntary Marching Band" was introduced with high hopes, and although the Marching Monarchs were always being criticized for their lack of quantity, they proved that quality not quantity is what counts. Their performances were every bit as good as those of past bands and their spirit just as high. For their excellent service to Meadowbrook and the surrounding community during football season, we grant them the right of knowing that they were a success.

CONCERT BAND

While Marching Band had its changes, Concert Band underwent a few changes as well. For the first time, the Concert Band (more commonly known as the Varsity Band) consisted of mostly underclassmen. All woodwinds in the school were placed in this Band, making J.V. Band a Brass Ensemble. The Band was smaller in number than it has ever been before, but as our Bands have repeatedly proven, small numbers don't stop musical Monarchs. The Concert Band participated in two concerts: the Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert. They also took part in Band Festival, an event where bands are judged on a number of musical items such as: intonation, tone, quality, etc. They received a Superior rating (the highest possible rating a band could receive). And if that is any indication as to what is to come in future years, look out Henry Mancini!

ORCHESTRA

We also have string instruments and their talent appears in our Orchestra. It was the second year for the Orchestra and the first year for their new director, Mr. Bozarth. Mr. Bozarth, who graduated from Meadowbrook in 1968, came from VCU to teach the Orchestra classes when Mrs. Robertson left.

The Orchestra participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts. Also this year, members of the Orchestra went to Solo and Ensemble as individuals and all received either a superior or an excellent rating.

With the inclusion of the Orchestra, our Music Department is truly well-rounded with talent.

Some new recruits for the Lawrence Welk Show. Concert Band displays their talents during the Christmas Concert. And a one, and a two, and a three.

PERFORMERS

Performers they are and performing they did. The New Sound Ensemble performed at many churches, dinners, the Spring Concert, and in the Arts Festival in the Courtyard. The group was paid when they performed at area dinners and this money was used for transportation purposes.

The group was made up of interested singers who had fifth period study hall. For once, this group did not lack in funds. This was partly due to the fact that it didn't need as much money as many of the other groups did.

The Ensemble consists of singers only. All of the instrumentalists were interested musicians who wanted to help. The Ensemble "class" receives no credit.

Under the direction of Mr. Winn, the group worked very hard, rehearsing during activities period and occasionally after school.

The New Sound Ensemble should be recognized as one of the fastest growing groups in the school.

Energy Crisis Cramps Ecologists

This year's Science Club was small in size and small in activities. Although many interesting field trips were planned, only a few were carried out; this was due to the gas shortage. The club did go to Washington D.C. during the winter and they attended many interesting places there. A camping trip to Seashore State Park is scheduled for late spring and hopes are high that it will be a success.

The size of this year's club is just right according to Mr. Adams. He says that a large club cannot get as much done as a small one. There is no dire need of money, although the club would be better off if money was readily available.

Mr. Adams says there will be a Science Club next year, but that it may possibly go into the field of ham radio or stamps.

Next year, we hope the Science Club will have better luck planning their activities.

"We've got to stop meeting like this, John!"

"I wonder if China is somewhere on the other side?"

Pep Club Boosts Spirit

Did you know that there is a group of students here at Meadowbrook who try to defeat the growing apathy and instill spirit at football and basketball games? Well, there is. They are called the Pep Club and rightly so. They are the ones who sell the spirit ribbons before games to get the students interested. They also sold pom-poms and Meadowbrook sweaters. The members are given trophies for participation and the member who sells the most ribbons gets a $10.00 gift certificate.

This year's club has increased in size over last year's club and has tried hard to "get it together." The Pep Club has been handicapped in past years by the office. They are not allowed to wear uniforms and haven't been a recognized group, but they will always supply the spirit M.H.S. needs.

These second and third year students are responsible for running the Mascot Den, with the funds to run the store being supplied by the administration. Through this, the students gain salesmanship experience.

D.E.C.A. has a lot of activities during the year. They attend a fall rally with other D.E.C.A. clubs in the Chesterfield/Henrico district. Their Christmas Dinner was canceled this year because of snow, but in February they attended a district contest in which 10 Meadowbrook students competed with other students for a chance to go to the state contest in Roanoke. They wind up their year with an employer-employee banquet. This is where the second and third year students who work invite their employer to a banquet held at a restaurant in Richmond.

Petersburg Chokes on Wishbone

As with any school, large or small, the sports program is one of the most important aspects of school life. Not only do the various sports allow students who excel in different sports to participate in them, but it also gives the student body the chance to see their school take part in something which is worthwhile. It allows competition, a needed component to interest the students in their school.

What is it that makes a successful sports program?

Spirit . . . Confident Monarchs cheering their team to victory; supporting their team through good and bad times.

Tension . . . The heated discussions in the locker rooms at half-time.

Exhaustion . . . Tired, hard-worked Monarchs plodding into the locker room after a grueling practice session or a hard-fought game.

Concern . . . The coach standing alone the sidelines anxiously awaiting the next play.

Unity . . . A group of students, all different, yet molded together as one—working and playing as a unit—a team with a single purpose.

All of these characterize the sports at MHS.

Even though not all the teams have winning records or undefeated seasons, they are groups of students of which to be proud. These are the individuals who give us our sports program, a vitally needed part of our school life.

Monarchs Place Second in District

Opening the season with a loss to Henrico, the fans were doubtful as to the showing the Monarchs would make the rest of the year.

However, the climax of the season came early and the Monarchs recorded their first victory over Petersburg (16-6).

After the defeat of Petersburg, the team won 6 and lost 2. One of these defeats was a heartstopper to Thomas Dale. Time ran out with Meadowbrook on the Thomas Dale one yard line.

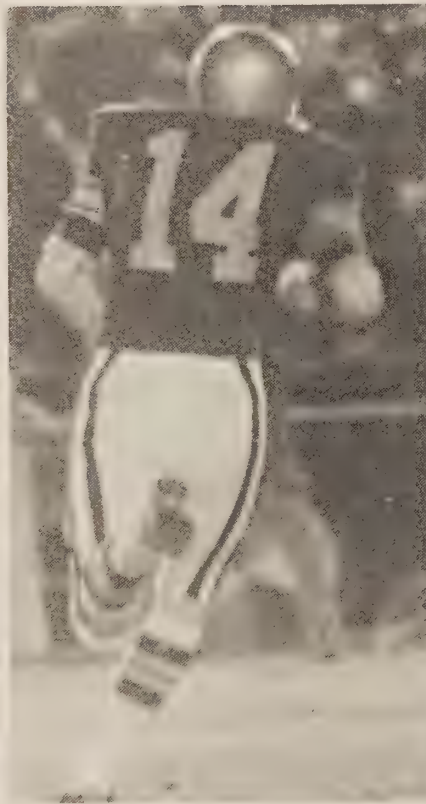

Not only were those who played on Friday night important, but the second and third stringers (the Gippers) are the guys who got out at practice and gave the first string the opposition for practice.

Coach Rowe remarked, "This team worked harder and improved more as the season went on than any other team I've coached. These guys didn't let defeat keep them down. Of course, it hurt at first, but this made the boys more determined, also. I'm real proud of these boys and what they accomplished."

All in all, it was a fine season. The team had good leadership and worked well together as a whole, an important characteristic of a winning team.

J.V.'s . . . No Disgrace

Once again the freshmen showed their spirit as they produced a fine 3-1-0 record. The team's purpose was to give the guys a chance to play more and gain experience. Our J.V.'s were coached by several Meadowbrook Alumni: Joe Thomas, Jerry Bowman, and Jimmy Harris. These men really worked hard and their efforts paid off. The team was led by the fine running of Keith Williams, Tim Mays, and Dale Wadkins. Along with their running and the offensive line's fine job of blocking the team moved very well.

The defense proved effective and held opposing offenses to minimum yardage. The defensive line was led by Ricky Seelman and Mark Fanelli while the defensive backfield was led by linebacker Mike Toney. The team's all-out effort was good and the varsity squad should be glad to get these guys next year.

Junior Varsity Lady Monarchs went triumphantly through the season and ended undefeated taking first place in the district. Mrs. Lee, a newcomer to Meadowbrook this year, coached the team which consisted of sophomores and freshmen. The eleven girls on the team really worked well together and gave Meadowbrook an exciting season. The sophomores will be eligible to play on the varsity team, but the freshmen will remain to help start off next year's team.

Our Girls Fired Up A Winning Season

Meadowbrook's Lady Monarchs really came forth this year when they finished their season with a 10-4 record and were third place in the district. There were six seniors on the team with two of them being the high scorers of the season, Suzie Owens and Karen Taylor. The 12 member team included a sophomore and a freshman, both of which proved to be great assets during the games.

"I was really pleased with this year's team," said Mrs. Lester. "They really showed teamwork on and off the court and were one of the best teams I've ever coached."

Although six girls are leaving, there will be six girls remaining with a few moving up from the J.V. team.

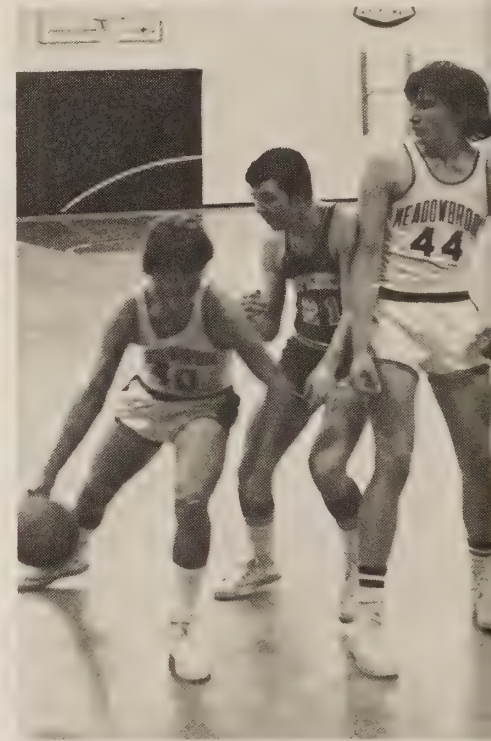

This year was a good season, but many students felt the Lady Monarchs didn't receive the support they should have.

J.V.'s—Any Indication? . . .

Even though our Varsity Team had trouble this year, our J.V.'s performed very well. With only four players returning from last year, the team came back from a 2-16 season to win 9 games in 18 outings. A .500 season doesn't seem like much to brag about, but with the competition our teams faced, it is!

Led by co-captains Martin Hudgins and Tim Brooks, the team worked very hard in practices this year and were ready for every game. They worked hard on different defenses, developing their man-to-man and zone defenses almost to perfection. Everybody put forth their greatest effort to produce a season which would show an improvement.

New members added alot to the team. Timmy Weddle, the team's high scorer, helped with his fantastic outside shooting and ability to penetrate the opponent's defense. George Robinson was our big guy; along with Mark Rapalee, he pulled down a large part of our rebounds. Tim Brooks and Martin Hudgins also helped the team get set on the court and called the offenses and defenses to use. Glenn Kelly was also an asset, especially in our free throw department. Jack Oliver also proved to be a valuable player, and he gained alot of playing experience as did many others.

Many long hours were spent in preparing for the games; if you ever wanted to see exciting games, our JV's gave them to you! Several games were won by close margins and had to go into overtime periods.

We can see that Coach Bauer had a good group of boys and that they were able to accomplish what they set out to do—improve! With only four players leaving this year, hopes for next year are bright.

Our Grapplers came out on top of the Central District Tournament this year, winning it with 85 points. They had to beat the three-time winner Petersburg for this crown.

During this tournament Leon Pearson scored a big upset by beating Chris Waters of Thomas Dale.

Even though the Grapplers had only one individual title, they still took five thirds and knocked out Petersburg as the Title holder of the Central District Tournament.

Gymnasts Tumble Into Meadowbrook

This year's Gymnastics Team showed a great deal of ability and poise. The team competed against Manchester and Hopewell, as well as in several A.A.V. meets. These meets gave the girls a chance to compete individually.

The team made use of many pieces of equipment including the balance beam, the uneven bars, and the vaulting horse. They also competed on the floor in free exercise.

The girls practiced at the "Creek", so that their coach, Mrs. Lester, could instruct Falling Creek girls in Gymnastics.

The Gymnastics Team worked very hard and put forth their best effort. Next year, we hope to see the team grow in size and scope.

Practice Makes for . . .

With all the hard work that the JV's put into practicing, it's a wonder that their batteries don't run down. But if your car battery runs down, or if you have a flat tire, or if you simply need to stop in to "fill 'er up," Powell's Texaco is the place to go. As regular as clockwork, spring follows winter and with this change, there also comes a change in school life. Semester exams are past, basketball and wrestling are now memories of embarrassment and triumph. Ahead lay hopes for victory in our Spring sports.

1974 proved to be a good year for MHS and its Spring sports teams. Disappointing, though, was the sparse attendance at most sports functions.

Varsity Baseball had to be the most disappointing of all of the Spring sports teams. The season, which would be rated as slightly less than mediocre, was a far cry from the hopes of having a district contender. However, their poor season was contrasted by the very fine season their JV counterparts had. Our JV's repeated as Central District titlist, tying Colonial Heights for first place.

Enthusiasm is the only word to describe our golf, tennis, and girls softball teams. Golf had a great season finishing second in the district with a 22-4 record. They also finished seventh in State competition.

Our tennis team was also a champion. In regular season play, they tied Midlothian, the strongest team in the district and one of the strongest in the region, for first place. However, they lost the play-off match.

The Lady Monarchs, too, had a very impressive season. Their spirit and support of MHS was shown by their Central District Tournament Championship which they won through knocking off a team which had a two-year winning streak.

Each of our Spring teams had high and low points as experienced in all sports. But these teams overcame the "lows" and the high points greatly outweighed the low ones. Each individual really performed well and was a great representative of MHS. Each team supported Meadowbrook as best they could. Can we say that we, Meadowbrook, supported these sports as best WE could? Unfortunately not.

... A Winning Season—JV's Win 10, Lose 2

What a season our JV Baseball team had! These guys pulled together and practiced long and hard to put together one of the best JV teams that Meadowbrook has ever seen. Our JV's concluded with a mark of 10-2; the excellence of this record speaks for itself.

Again this year, Jamie Acashian coached the JV's. His hopes that hard practices would again make a fine, winning team came true.

From the boys that make up the team this year, several will be prospects for our Varsity team next year. Because of the experience our JV players will have gained, they will most likely prove to be valuable Varsity players. Also, those Freshmen who do not make the "big team" next year will be back to give the support, leadership, and experience our JV's will need.

Our team was led by co-captain Mike Rapalee, the hitting specialist. His batting average was .500 for the season. With hitting like this, how can you lose? Also, ace hurler Dale Watkins led the team in pitching; his season record of 4-0, speaks for itself.

School support this year was not very high; in fact, it was downright poor in view of the fact that their season was so good. Despite this, our JV's came through—something they can be proud of—something our school should be proud of.

The support will be much better next year and surely our junior squad will perform with magnificence . . . anyway, let's hope so.

Unfortunately, our Varsity Baseball team didn't enjoy a good season. Hopes were high that we would have a winning season after recording 10 wins and 6 losses last year. But this season proved to be only mediocre—to say the most. Our team won 4 and lost 11 games.

Again this year, the support for baseball was better, but still not at the point it should be. Most of the support came at the start of the season, but soon began to trail off as the fans became tired of disappointing defeats.

Several factors contributed to the season the "diamond" Monarchs had. One was that several of the boys had never played together before. The major reason, however, was the fact that several starters from last year's squad graduated. Even though quite a few players returned, most of them lacked the playing experience that is needed to start every game.

The team was led by co-captains Mitch Dudley and Mark Bland. These two led the team in hitting and also helped to perk up team morale. The pitching of such hurlers as David Holbrook helped the team in pinched situations.

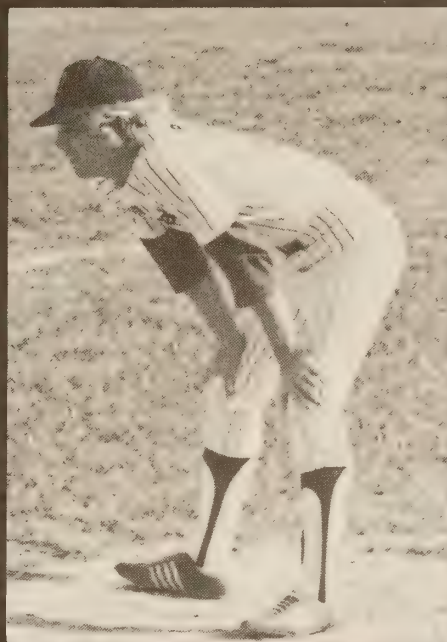

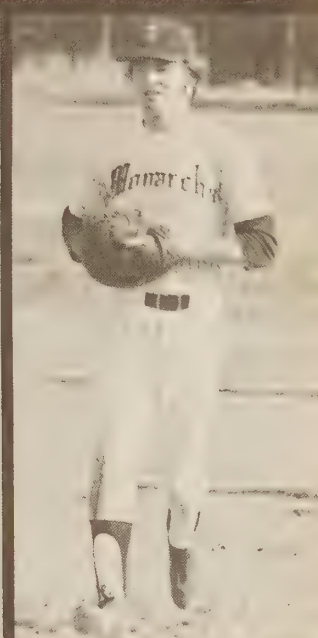

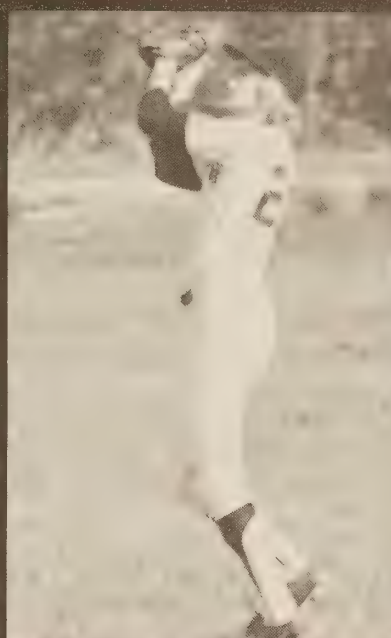

Disappointing as the season was, the team undoubtedly gained a lot of experience. Under the direction of Coach Butler, the team was able to sharpen its ragged edges somewhat, and look like a fairly decent team.

This year, the team will not be hurt as much by graduation. True, the big sluggers (Bland and Dudley) will be leaving; but the closeness of this group of boys, combined with the spirit, attitude, and experiences gained this season, are sure to produce a well-balanced team next year—one that can do as good a job of representing MHS as did our '74 Monarchs. We're proud of our team!

The Girls' Softball Team swung up a 7-3 record in the District and ended up with a 9-3 record overall.

The team faltered in the beginning losing its first two games, but the girls "pulled it all together" and at their third outing, they beat Colonial Heights, who was undefeated at that time.

The Girls' Softball Team was coached by Mrs. Sandy Lee, a newcomer to MHS this year. Along with her good leadership and the team's determination to win (lead by seniors: Karen Taylor-pitcher, Susie Owens-catcher, Patti Orfield-second base, Brenda Barham-third base, and Debby Jackson-right field), they placed fourth in the District.

This qualified them for the Central District Tournament. In the first round of tournament play, our girls beat Midlothian 15-3. In the semi-finals, our Lady Monarchs beat Dinwiddie 8-5. This was the first time Dinwiddie had lost in two years. In the finals, the girls faced Manchester and won 14-6, making Meadowbrook's Girls' Softball Team the Central District Champions.

Next year, the team will have to do quite a lot of rebuilding, but if their enthusiasm is an indication of their determination, rebuilding won't be a problem at all.

"Come on Duke! Sink that putt!"

"Come on ball, roll!"

"Concentration and putts go together, right Mac?"

"Where's the ball?"

The Golf Team really got into the swing of things this year, and the product of their labors was a 22-4 record. Our team did well this year and they handed District "Champ," Thomas Dale, their only loss.

The team is made up of six starters plus a varying number of boys who are in training. The six starters go to matches, usually a tri-team affair. Here, the three schools compete against each other. Each player shoots twelve holes of golf, weather permitting. The scores for all the players are added and the team having the fewest number of strokes is the winner.

This year our team was led by Senior Mac Tyler, who was also selected as Most Valuable Player. MHS finished second in the District and competed at State level where they finished seventh out of all the teams in the state. This is quite an accomplishment considering the number of teams in Virginia.

Other important players to our team were Mark Owens, Chuck Wolff, Chris Meyer, and Kyle Miller. The rest of the team was filled with underclassmen. Although there are four seniors who will be graduating, five returners will be here to help our MHS golfers get swinging again. FORE!

Tennis Team Aces Competition . . .

Meadowbrook's Tennis Team, coached by Mr. Bauer, ended their 1974 season with an 11-1 record and a second place in the Central District. Their only loss was to Midlothian which tied the Monarchs and the Trojans for first place. The Monarchs later played against the Trojans again for the District title and lost 5-4.

"They all played together as a team and knew what they were doing when they were out there against their opponents," said Coach Bauer. Scott Wilson was nominated as the Most Valuable Player for this year's Tennis Team. The rest of the team really put forth a lot of effort and this is one of the reasons they had such a great season.

The team this year consisted of 3 seniors, 6 juniors, and 2 sophomores. The team also had two female members, Renée Menuet, who is a three year veteran, and a newcomer, Pat Dardoufas. Pat and the other few newcomers show great promise for the future tennis teams here at MHS.

Although Coach Bauer and the 3 seniors will not be back next year, there are the remaining members left with hopes of a future Central District title.

TRACK TEAM

Some of this year's record-breakers are: Edmund Collins, Jay Thomas, Scott Mills, Mark Taylor, Darrell Butler, and Rodney Cooper. Rodney Cooper fights off his opponent on the curve. Coach Tucker looks mystified as he watches team in action. Bob Seigren move over. Bottoms Up! Jay Thomas is caught sleeping "on" the job. It must be a easier way to get to the top. Meadowbrook and Benedictine stride forward as Lynn Holder points the way. Darrell Butler puts he best foot forward.

Work was the key to the success of this year's track team. The team greatly improved from last year and the future looks even better with most of the team returning next year.

Manchester was the first to fall victim to our minutemen as they raced towards a 4-4 season. This record may not seem too impressive, but it marks the best record a MHS track team has ever had.

The team was well-rounded, but much of our strength was in pole-vaulting. In this event, Mark Taylor took 1st place in the District. Scott Mills, and Jay Thomas placed 4th and 5th in Regional Competition, respectively.

However, there were plenty of other standouts on the team. Edmund Collins took 5th place in the Triple jump in the District meet, and Darrell Butler (who was voted as Most Valuable Player) won the Intermediate Hurdles at the District meet. Also in District competition, Steve Traylor took 2nd in the shotput, and Rodney Cooper placed 2nd in the mile.

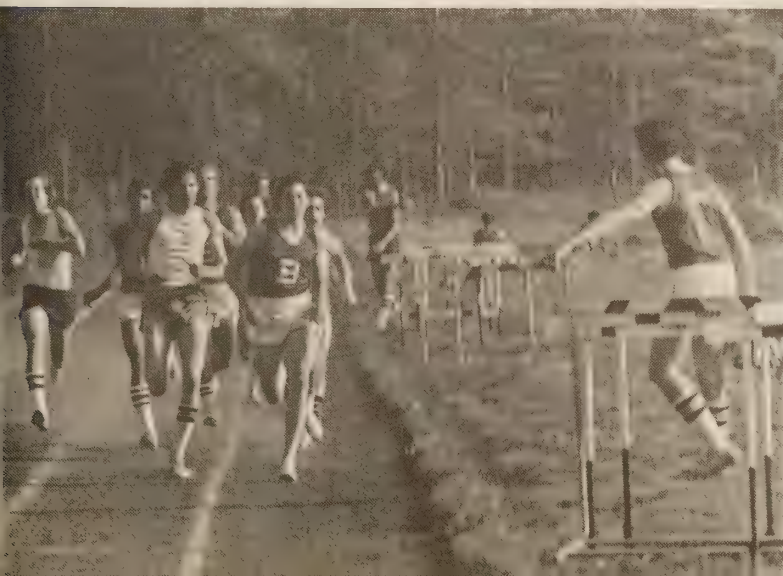

Two of our track stars, Jay Thomas and Scott Mills, went to State competition at the University of Virginia. There, Scott finished 6th. Even though these boys didn't place near the top, it took alot of hard work to make it to the State Meet. This was quite an accomplishment.

We can see that MHS is quickly improving in track and will certainly prove to be a District contender next year. Keep on hurdling, Monarchs.

Girls' Show Improvement

The Girls' Track Team was small, but packed with power. Even though there were only ten members, some were outstanding in their events. Patricia Grandis, who ran the 440, was a possible State contender until she suffered a foot injury. This injury kept her out of competition for the remainder of the season. One member, Melinda Campbell, participated in almost every event. Anytime someone was needed to fill in for an event other than their own, Melinda was there. This type of effort is a good quality for ANY athlete to have. Lauri Kumberlow threw the shotput and discus and did very well in all of our meets. All of the girls on the team improved greatly throughout the season, but only the three team members mentioned above were letter members.

Overall the team did very well, considering their small number. They didn't have much luck in winning meets, but the individual girls did place in their events often.

Since our team consisted almost entirely of sophomores and freshmen, our future in Girls' Track really looks good. Keep on truckin', girls!

Teacher-itis Doesn't Hit Them All

Editorial from the Editor

This year a most unfortunate action was taken against one of our clubs. Our Hi-Y was disbanded. Contrary to popular belief, the sole reason was NOT their fund-raising efforts through a keg party—that was only the clincher.

When asked why the club was disbanded, the administration gave several reasons. All clubs, organizations, and athletic teams of Meadowbrook are to present themselves (by their appearance and actions) as good representatives of this school. The administration felt the Hi-Y wasn't doing this. Another reason concerns the "constitution" of the group. Each group of M.H.S. has a "constitution" stating their purposes and reasons for existing. It was felt that the club had swayed too far away from their "constitution" and that it was no longer upholding these purposes and reasons. The end came when they decided to hold a keg-party as the Hi-Y of Meadowbrook High School. The illegal sale of beer to minors by a club at Meadowbrook is not an acceptable means of raising money. So the boom was lowered and the club was disbanded.

It is quite possible that this is not totally the fault of the club. Their actions might be the result of society's inconsistency to uphold the laws of our country.

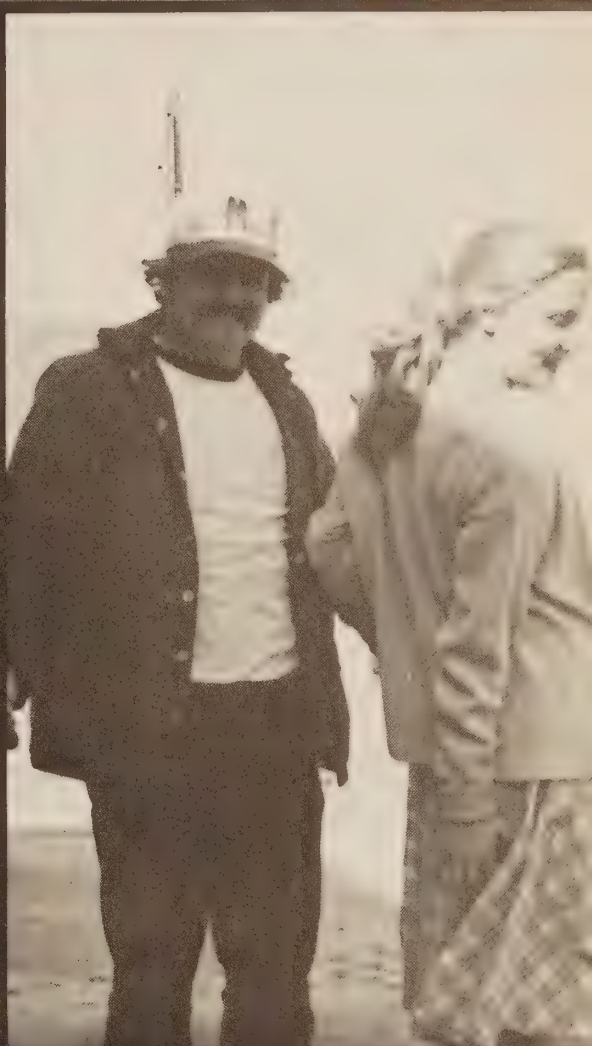

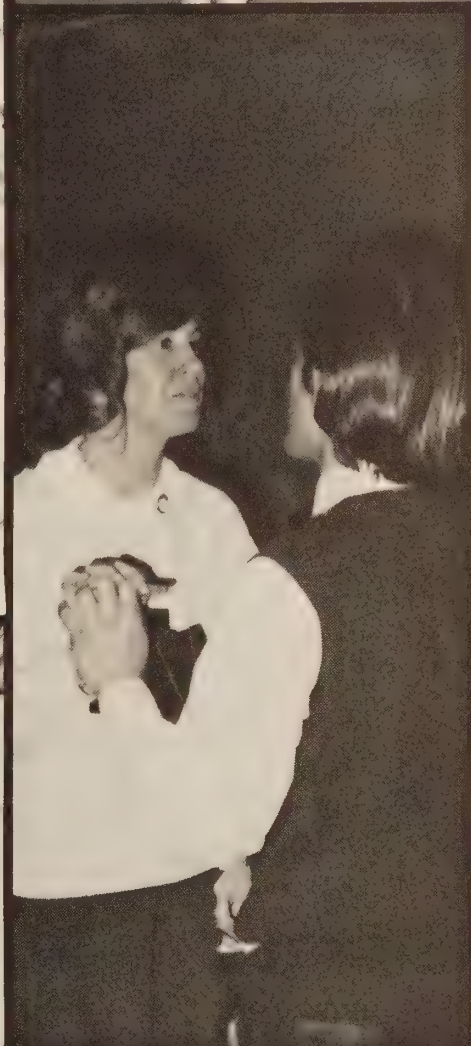

It seems that in day-to-day life, the majority of people ignore the laws and most forms of authority. People tend to make their own rules. But when someone is caught breaking a law, then it is a totally different thing. Everyone tends to preach to the violator about following rules and laws.

This age-old problem exists in all facets of our life all around us. A good example is Watergate. Buggings, pay-offs, etc. have been occurring for years, but nobody considered it a wrong-doing. It was "okay." But, somebody got caught. Now people are ready to stand right by the book in their punishment for the infraction.

A closer-to-home example is cheating. When someone cheats on a quiz or a test, it is generally accepted as "okay." But the minute somebody gets caught, it is a totally new story.

Why is this such a problem? It will probably never be stopped, unless somebody finds a way to curb rationalizing. At any rate, maybe all groups at Meadowbrook will take heed. And hopefully, next year will see a new Hi-Y.

Everything Was Beautiful For Homecoming Week

Spirit Week started off with a bang! School and class colors were worn on Monday and Tuesday, and the festivities started Wednesday morning with the Spirit Chain. A large group of students marched through the halls and ended up in the gym for a mini pep rally. Thursday brought the regular pep rally with Spirit Banners waving high, and the Freshmen walked away with the Spirit Jug. The Bon Fire was held that night with a good-sized turn out to see the dummies thrown into the blaze and cheer the team on. Friday, students worked hurriedly all day to get their floats ready for the Parade of Floats, which was followed by the pre-game show highlighted by the playing of the National Anthem in total darkness with just a spotlight on the American Flag. At halftime, the winning floats were named, and the Homecoming Court filed onto the field, as the band played, "Everything Is Beautiful." Paulette Privitera was named Maid of Honor, and Mr. Buchanan crowned Jill Vonderhaar, Homecoming Queen 1973. Saturday night followed with the Homecoming Dance, where couples danced under the Halloween decorations to celebrate our football victory. The dance ended a week in which everything was truly beautiful.

Instruments, Elves, and Silver Bells

On December 17, the Band, Orchestra, Majorettes and Choirs combined their talents to present the Christmas Concert. The concert band under the direction of Mr. Winn played songs to get everyone in the holiday mood. THE BAND IS PLAYING SLEIGH RIDE THIS YEAR TOO, HUH? The Majorettes, as toy soldiers, twirled guns instead of batons. Santa Claus appeared and Mr. Winn talked to the children about Christmas. Songs of the season were sung by both choirs. THEY GET BETTER EVERY YEAR. The Mixed Choir members are as follows:

Bluegrass is the Hit at Folk Rock

It was a small crowd that came to the gym to sit under a parachute on November third and listen to the music. IF THAT PARACHUTE FALLS, WE'LL ALL BE SUFFOCATED. And did they hear music! There were guitar solos by Nancy Reed, Calvin Cecil, our own Mr. Muller and Stan Dorsey. IS STAN STILL PLAYING? Folk songs were sung by Karen Taylor and Company, along with Robert Day and Jurgen Korb. Hard Rock was represented by three groups, Live Oak, Fragile, and Lucifer. I DON'T THINK I CAN SIT MUCH LONGER, BOTH OF MY LEGS ARE ASLEEP. The monotony was broken by the Fencepost Five, who delighted everyone with Ham-bone. The crowd went crazy over a four-piece band called the Richmond Bluegrass Symphony. I LIKE THE TALL ONE. They were the favorite band and received two standing ovations. ONE MORE TIME!

Farewell To Jack Winn

"Of Times and Love and Seasons" was the theme of this year's Spring Concert. It was on a serious note and was dedicated to Mr. Winn who was directing the Band and Choirs for the last time. A good-sized crowd was present in the auditorium on May 17th. WHEN IS THE INTERMISSION? I THINK I'M STARTING TO MELT! The crowd was entertained by not just the Band, Mixed Choir, and Girls Choir, but also by two vocal trios, the Ensemble, the Major-ettes, and the String Orchestra directed by Ron Bozarth. The Girls Choir, this year, in addition to singing in both concerts, also went to Festival and received an excellent rating. The members are: Theresa Lolley, Teri Davis, Gayle Osborn, Pam Bebout, Debbie Dean, Cathy Arnold, Becky Maxwell, Lynn Lauver, Cathy Gregory, Lori Garst, Donna Hassell, Vicki Bryant, and Paula Marks.

Fearless Faculty

Foils

Freakish Five

Where can you find precision basketball players, screaming fans and spirited cheerleaders? Not at this game, where our faculty pitted its basketball skills against the WLEE Freakish Five. Our gang of dribblers included Misters Buchanan, Thomas Bauer, Muller, and Coaches Tucker, Hines, Rowe, and Butler. They battled it out with the stars of WLEE, like Basketball Jones, B.L.T., Randy Scott, Charlie Brown, and their coach, the Bowman Body. IS BASKETBALL JONES THE ONE THAT LOOKS SORT OF LIKE A BASKETBALL? The score seesawed back and forth and stopped at halftime reading 44 to 37, with the Freaks winning. I WANT B.L.T.'s AUTOGRAPH. I WANT B.L.T. The second half was active and both teams got roughed up a bit. HEY, B.L.T. GOT SANDWICHED! The game ended with the final score, Freaks 70 and Faculty 72.

Coach Rowe shows the others the art of Basketball Bawled.

Things are looking up.
Maybe if we surround the ball, we can catch it.
Is this the "physicist" you "met" Mr. Muller?

Bucking Burros

Bumps and Bruises

Meadowbrook produced it's own version of "Hee Haw" on March 5, when students and a few, brave faculty members played Donkey Basketball. WHAT'S THAT SMELL? BUT THE DONKEYS HAVEN'T COME IN YET! The object was to get hold of the ball and the donkey at the same time. Players tried desperately to stay on the donkeys long enough to shoot for a basket. I'VE NEVER SEEN A HEADSTAND DISMOUNT BEFORE. The half-time show consisted of two trick dogs and a black pony. Both dogs jumped from a 25 foot high ladder and the pony walked upright across the gym. The second half began as the trained animals came in. AND THE DONKEYS WERE THERE TOO! Players continued to try for points as the seconds ticked off. PAUL! GET OFF YOUR LLAMA AND GET THE BALL! The final score was Faculty 18 and Students 12. I THINK THE DONKEYS WON.

Is this what they mean by "dragging their asses?"
Are ya sure Charlton Heston started this way?
Why, yes!
These should come with stepladders as standard equipment.
Maybe you have it in Park, Larry.
I don't think he's in any shape to catch that ball, Mr. B.
What do ya mean mine only has three legs?
They're off!! He's off!!

Come Blow Your Horn Brings Down The House

Bachelor pads are sometimes the scenes of confusion, but few have seen confusion like that in the swinging bachelor apartment of Alan Baker (John Vance) in Neil Simon's comedy play "Come Blow Your Horn." It all started when Alan's younger brother, Buddy (Paul Baldwin), had his twenty-first birthday and ran away from home to enjoy some freedom. I'VE BEEN LIVING IN A CONVENT ALL MY LIFE. Alan was trying to fix little brother up with a very friendly model, played by Gwyn Holder. I WANTED TO GET YOU A BIRTHDAY PRESENT, AND NOW I'VE FOUND SOMETHING YOU HAVEN'T GOT! Meanwhile, Mom and Dad (Barbara Wood and Rhett Bledsoe) wanted Buddy to come back to the nest and not be a bum like his brother. At the same time, Alan's true-love, Connie (Debbie Love), decided she wanted to know exactly where their relationship was headed. All of these problems combined to make a mess of their lives and a delightful comedy. They battled it out on November 15, 16, and 17. A lot of credit should go to the drama teacher and director of the play, Miss Brennan. Even though this was her first year at Meadowbrook and her first production, the play was a great success and ended each night with a standing ovation.

Drama Nuts Present Peanuts

Where can you hear such famous lines as: "I'm a supercrab!", and "My teeth are tingling again"? You guessed it! They're from the production of "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" that ran April 25, 26, and 27. The play consisted of excerpts from a day in Charlie Brown's life and many called for singing and dancing. HOORAY FOR IRVING BERLIN! The cast of characters were: Charlie Brown—Gary Hall, GOOD GRIEF!; Linus—Ronnie Gunter, MY BLANKET!; Lucy—Leslie Large, YOU BLOCKHEAD!; Schroeder—Rhett Bledsoe, SAUCEPANS! I CAN'T STAND IT!; Patty—Kathleen Graham, RABBIT!; and Snoopy—Paul Baldwin, ARF! The musical showed characters that everyone can identify with. Charlie Brown tries, in vain, to win a baseball game and impress the little red-headed girl. I WONDER WHY SHE NEVER LOOKS AT ME. Linus attempts to outgrow his need for a security blanket. GOT YOU BACK AGAIN. Schroeder tries to keep his sanity around Lucy and Patty shows us that innocence is not dead. Snoopy lives in his imaginary world of ferocious animals and WWI fighter pilots. Lucy finally realizes she likes Charlie Brown and tells him, "You're a good man, Charlie Brown, if only you weren't so wishy-washy!" GOOD GRIEF!

It's undemocratic to stop a person from being Queen, Linus.

Schroeder has ears only for Beethoven, Lucy.

I've got you this time, Red Baron!

The "family portrait."

Snoopy avoids rabbit hunting with Patty.

The Doctor is IN.

We'll all call you Sugarlips from now on, Paul!

Charlie Brown decides to win the game for the little red-headed girl.

Move over Lassie, here comes the fastest supper dish in the west!

Amen!

Juniors Breathe Sigh of Relief

Magical May 4 finally arrived, much to the Seniors' delight. Couples entered the gym and found themselves in a Night on the Carribean. CARRIBEAN, ISN'T THAT A KIND OF REINDEER? They walked up a wooden bridge that spanned a stream teeming with goldfish and led to a waterfall where each couple was announced by two friendly natives in colorful costumes. On every horizon, as far as the eye could see, were dark blue seascapes complete with whitecaps and sailboats. Palm trees dotted the island paradise beneath the star-studded streamers of the sky and at the far end of the island was the band, Chess, on a raised pier. IF A BAND MEMBER FALLS OFF THAT PLATFORM HE WILL NEED A BAND-AIDE. The outfits were varied and colorful. I'VE NEVER SEEN A FORMAL JUMPSUIT BEFORE. Halter tops, top hats, and sandals, all joined together and danced to the music of Chess.

Prom night comes with its own certain magic that makes everyone look their best. And for the best in tuxedos you should shop Tuxedo Junction. ## Gym Becomes Island Paradise

Occasionally people would leave the mass of tuxedos and gowns to sit in the cool night air of the courtyard, stand in the line to get pictures taken, or to get a drink of punch and a piece of fresh fruit. WATERMELLON ANYONE?

Finally the moment that everyone had been waiting for—the much debated Senior Figure and the crowning of the King and Queen of the Prom. The Seniors who were voted into the figure promanaded as Mr. Search told of each one's activities. And then, the winners were announced: King, Paul Baldwin and Queen, Brenda Barham. A perfect ending of a perfect evening that will be remembered for years to come, by both the Juniors and the Seniors.

Beauties and the Best (Talent)

The auditorium was filled to capacity on March 28 for the Miss Meadowbrook Pageant. Chuck Wolff and Jill Vonderhaar, as master and mistress of ceremonies, introduced the six beauty and two talent judges. HOW COME ALL THE WOMEN JUDGES LOOK ALIKE? The contestants and their escorts were then introduced as they paraded down the aisles and onto the stage, which was set to resemble a garden. I KNOW HOW THEY MADE THE FOUNTAIN WORK . . . THEY USED ARTIFICIAL WATER!

The talent competition started as Rhonda Riggins sang "The Way We Were" to the girls and their escorts. Then Meadowbrook's version of the Lettermen (Nim Lawrence, Larry Hall, and Rusty Lindsay) sang "Going Out of My Head." Paul Baldwin and Gary Hall did a song and dance comedy routine in which Paul thought he was a dog. The Fence Post Five Plus One brought down the house with their hambone and real country music.

Oh, What A Beautiful Evening!

The first eliminations were announced and the eight semifinalists told of their future plans. HOW COME NO ONE WANTS TO BE A LADY BARBER ANY-MORE? Then the five finalists were picked. Each girl was asked, "What are your feelings on the current streaking fad?" The answers varied from funny to informative.

The final talent acts followed. Larry Hall accompanied Nim Lawrence on the piano as they sang "Fire and Rain," and Andy Anderson performed an organ solo. I DIDN'T KNOW WE HAD AN ORGAN!

In the final minutes the tension mounted. Mr. Buchanan escorted last year's winner, Dawn Zeig, to the stage and the winners were announced. The talent award went to the Fence Post Five Plus One. Paulette Privitera, though not a contestant, was unanimously voted Miss Congeniality. Dana Ashley was named first runner up and Karen Taylor was crowned Miss Meadowbrook 1974.

Christmas Dance Is A Holiday Hop

Christmas trees, mistletoe, and giant stuffed animals transformed the cafeteria into a winter wonderland for the S.C.A. Christmas Dance on December 15. HEY, LOOK! THERE ARE REAL CANDY CANES EVERYWHERE. Music was provided by "Luficer." RUSTY AND LYNN REALLY DO SOME WILD DANCING, DON'T THEY? The highlight of the evening came with the entrance of Santa Claus (alias Mr. Sindlinger) who wished everyone a Merry Christmas. Not many couples showed up, but those that did seemed to enjoy the holiday atmosphere.

Roll

Once upon a time, there was a 50's-60's Day and Dance. Students and teachers went crazy over ponytails, bobby socks, and greasers. Everyone was in the groove and bopped to class. HEY BABE, WANT TO GO TO THE SUBMARINE RACES? At the Hop, on Saturday night, the cats all twisted and strolled to music presented by the WRGM D.J.'s. ELVIS, ELVIS! Albums were given to the best Boppers and Greasiest Couple. They all lived happily ever after as they rocked the night away.

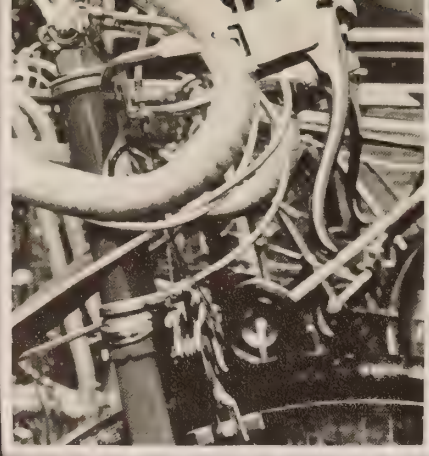

When you go crusin' and you're out to loop the q, you want to be seen in a mean machine. DICK STRAUSS FORD has what you're lookin' for. They have cars for the past, present, and future, too. So remember DICK STRAUSS FORD, and you'll have it made in the shade.

Don't mess with us Pharoahs!
You mean you're not the one who gave me the ring?
A cool couple cuts class.
"Sweet Angel" makes the rounds.
I sure love those bobby socks, Cathy.
There's a whole lot of shaking going on!
Hey, man. Look at that bitchin' babe.
Elvis! If you dance with me I promise not to step on your Blue Suede shoes.
Mr. Grease, himself.

Seniors Receive Belated Respect

Picnics, bicycles, slaves, and busts sum up the activities of Senior Week. Monday and Friday all Seniors were to ride bikes, but few did because of the heat. Tuesday came and Slave Day went over much better. . . . TAKING THIS OPPORTUNITY TO PAY YOU THE RESPECT I NEGLECTED TO PAY ALL YEAR . . . ISN'T THIS PROPAGANDA! Underclassmen spent the day standing on tables and chairs reading the Senior Creed. READ THIS BACKWARDS WHILE HOPPING ON ONE FOOT AND EATING YOUR PEANUT BUTTER SANDWICH! Wednesday brought mass chaos as Seniors took over classes. Seniors were also given free drinks and allowed to eat a picnic lunch outside. The Mess America Contest was held on Thursday. The judges finally made the difficult decision and picked demure "Debbie" Haggerty as the winner. DAVID LOOKS SO CUTE, HE SHOULD HAVE ENTERED THE MISS MEADOWBROOK CONTEST!

Class Night: Smooth as a Zipper

On May 24, the Senior Class along with their families and friends attended Class Night. It began as the class marched in and Peyton Coleman, as class president, officially welcomed everyone. The program started as Mr. B. turned the tables on several students and "told on them". I HOPE HE DIDN'T FIND OUT ABOUT ME! Then various awards and scholarships were presented. Sashes were given to NHS Members and honor students received tassels. Finally, the time came for the Senior Play. Students went through a normal school day that started with a Pep Rally and showed every period of the day. IT'S TIME FOR THE CONTINUING STORY OF JULIAN AND " ". Several teachers were impersonated with fascinating results. WHY YES! The play ended with the Senior version of "Those Were The Days" and the singing of the Alma Mater.

Seniors line up to march into assembly.
Ray and Gail give a brief class history.
M-O-N-A-R-C-H, Yeah!
"Give me a Red! Give me a Neck!"
"This is a job for Captain Audio!"
"Some dumb yo-yo . . ."
"Well Miss Thompson, do you have a pass?"
Nancy knows just how Mrs. Smith is!
Who's playing Mr. Porter? YOU MEAN YOU DON'T KNOW?
Ray thinks physics class is painless.
Tim Flourney portrays the typical hall monitor.

June 3rd and the beginning of the end had arrived. Early in the morning Seniors showed up in caps and gowns to have their class picture taken and to rehearse. Baccalaureate had been held the day before under rainy skies, but this evening brought clear skies as the class marched onto the football field and listened to various speakers, including Richard D. Obenshain and Peyton Coleman. Two scholarships were presented and then the choir sang "We've Only

Seniors march in as the crowd watches.
Seniors and faculty listen to speakers.
Mr. Obenshain and Peyton give rousing speeches.
Choir sings to Class of '74 for the last time.

Just Begun", the Senior Class Motto. Diplomas were presented and the Class of '74 left realizing that they really had only just begun. Have you ever wondered where your cap and gown, graduation stationary, and diplomas came from? Well, Herff Jones has it all for you. So whenever you look at your diploma, think of Herff Jones and you're thinking of the best.

Seniors take their seats on the field.
Patti Orfield receives her diploma.
Renee Menquet is given the Mac D. Moore Scholarship and Dale Finlay is given the Faculty Scholarship.
Seniors turn their tassels and become graduates.

Thanks To Our Monetary Support

Men's stores with great clothes are getting harder and harder to find. Lee Jay's can help all you guys out, because they've got all the latest styles in all the latest colors.

If you're looking for a slick suit, Lee Jay's has got it. And after you get the suit, you need accessories. Lee Jay's has got the shirts, bow ties, socks, and belts that will add extra pizzazz to any suit you pick.

To match their fantastic clothes, they have a location that can't be beat. So guys, next time you're in a hurry, head for 5714 Hopkins Road in Meadowbrook Plaza.

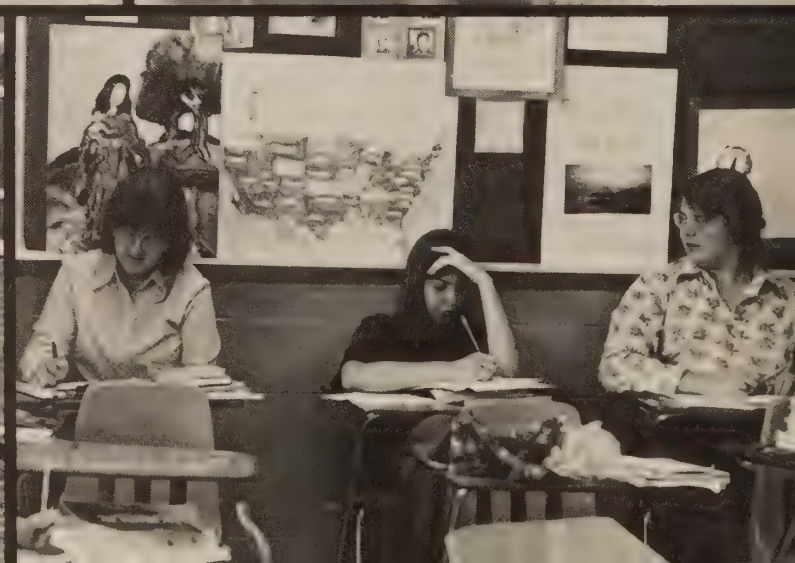

As well as having great clothes, Lee Jay's has great service. The salesmen greet you with smiles and a helpful attitude.

Lee Jay's doesn't carry dull duds, so you can bet you'll always get clothes that look as great as the ones Rick and Kenny are wearing.

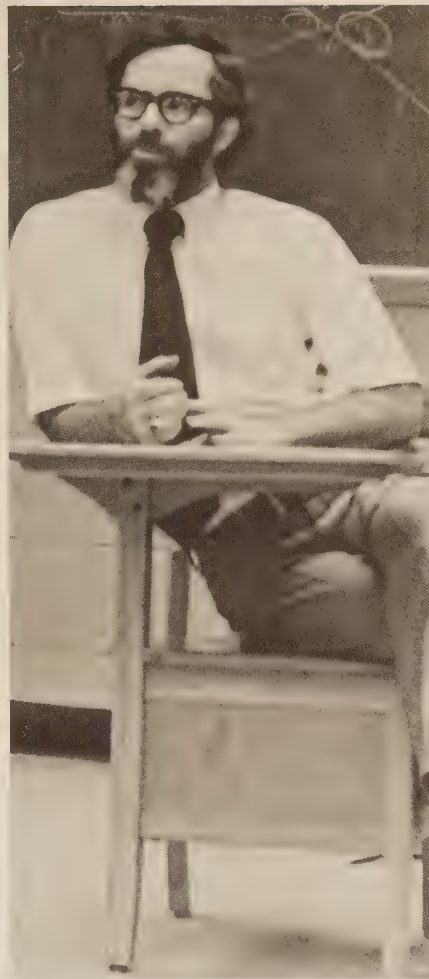

When you're putting together a fantastic outfit, Lee Jay's can help you out with great looking sport coats (like the one Rick and Kenny are showing), shirts, and bow ties.

Teachers seem to get all types of answers to their questions. The answer Mr. Kane just received seems to have left him in dismay.

A good teacher is one who will listen, as well as talk. And as can be seen, Mr. Kane listens quite attentively.

When you wrestle, you need constant encouragement; and Coach Kane definitely gives a lot of encouragement to his Grapplers.

SCEPTRE Salutes Brian Kane

We, the 1974 SCEPTRE Staff, would like to dedicate this yearbook to Mr. Brian Kane.

There are many problems to dedicating a yearbook. After working hard for a full year, we wanted to dedicate the '74 SCEPTRE to a very deserving and hard working person.

We chose Brian Kane.

Mr. Kane has been with Meadowbrook from the beginning of its existence. He began teaching English and Government and has since picked up Humanities. Mr. Kane isn't just an ordinary teacher, though. Instead of lecturing and expecting you to memorize facts and phrases, he teaches you to use your mind—he teaches you to think. Mr. Kane is the type of teacher that wants a student to feel like he has really learned something when he leaves High School.

Brian Kane also coaches Wrestling and it is here that his true dedication shows through. When Meadowbrook first opened, there was no Wrestling Team. Coach Kane brought our Grapplers from nonexistence to club status and finally to Team status.

For the last three years, our Grapplers have had winning seasons. We have had many fine Wrestlers, but without Coach Kane, they would never have done it. When it's time for Wrestling Season, Coach Kane lives, breathes, eats, and sleeps Wrestling, as well as maintain the integrity of his classroom. He throws his whole self into coaching our Grapplers.

It is his dedication as a coach that boosts our Wrestling Team to continuous wins. And it is for this dedication to the student body that we dedicate the '74 SCEPTRE to Coach Brian Kane.

... An End

It's been said that Meadowbrook is full of big eaters and here they are waiting for the pies to appear.

Our courtyard is quite popular during the warmer months. Need we say why?

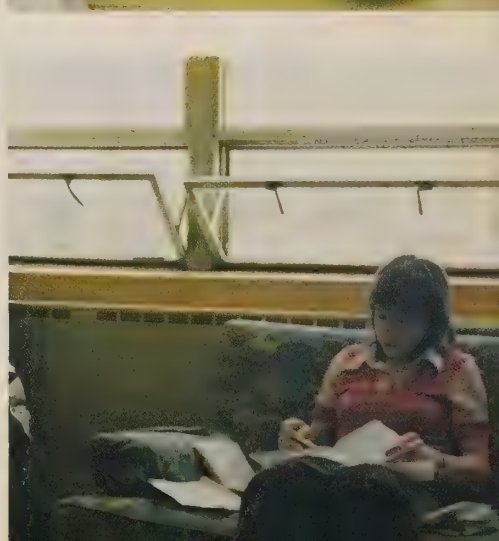

Traffic jams occur in the weirdest places, right boys?

That's right, Rebecca, we finally took your picture.

No, Graham, we're not going to help you with anymore "Naval" Academy polls!

One would think that Beverley would get tired of reading announcements.

A lot of different people go to Meadowbrook and with them they bring a lot of different styles of dress. Shoes are no exception and here are a few examples.

Who's answering that phone, Justin, you or the computer?

Spring means having Phy. Ed. outside. Along with that comes the long trek to and from the football field.

Hawkins, why are we building these dollhouses?

Usually the only time beauties come out are at the beach, but there are exceptions to every rule, right Coaches Tucker and Butler!

Mr. Winn shows appreciation of the gift that Brenda and Dorline gave him from the Band.

And you can see why the Band appreciates Mr. Winn so much.

Life In a Day

Tis a new day arisen,
you sit and watch go by.
You look at life's prism,
and you wonder . . . why?
Why is learning what our forefathers passed down for many years.
So great a bother,
That they shed so many tears.
Freedom to learn, to listen,
without a shadow of a doubt.
So you wonder why the glisten,
what is it all about?
The morning rise into studies,
to learn what is passed on.
Though tests are kind of muddy,
you go through them like a song.
Who was Patrick Henry?
What purpose was he?
Then out of your memory,

yes . . . he shouted liberty!
The afternoon hussle, bussle,
"watch out, catch that ball!"
Fun, games. Is this what it is?
No, that's not quite all.
The evening closeness at the prom with your friends.
In so many ways,
you hate to see it end.
Then once on the steps,
you look all around.
Finally, at last,
education you have found.
And now on graduation,
the fact is made perfectly clear,
Why so many did act,
and so many shed tears.

—Robin Pavey

We, the 1974 SCEPTRE Staff, would like to thank the following people for making our book a success: our advertisers and patrons for their monetary support; Mr. Watson for his guidance and patience; Mr. Buchanan for his constant concern and help; Mr. E.G. Butler for putting up with us, especially during deadlines; Mr. Pennell for his service through our many frustrating days of picture-taking; the students who bought a '74 SCEPTRE and helped us to make it a reality; and last but by no means least, we would like to thank Mr. Hamrick for all of the time, work, and devotion that he put into our book. He went through a lot of headaches and gave us the confidence we needed to put out a yearbook. We couldn't have done it without him.
